The Tuesday afternoon that the faculty and a number of students will have the right and privilege to stand a vote for the candidates of their choice for Congress and the President.

Many of the people in the U. S. are their will about that right. Not intentionally, of course, but they just won't have time to go to the polls.

The right to vote is more than a privilege. It's a duty—duty to yourself, your children and your fellow man. The restrictions on voting are few and far between. You don't have to own an estate to vote nor do people care what color your skin is. You may worship in a cathedral, a synagogue, or the little church around the corner, but your religious belief doesn't affect your qualifications as a voter.

Yes, the rich, the poor, the black, and the white will all vote in the coming election. You have just as much power when you cast your ballot as a banker or the fellow who digs ditches for a living.

When you drop that ballot in the box, you're doing more than voting for a candidate; you're casting another kind of vote; a vote for the freedom of individuals to pass their own beliefs from one to another. These are the greatest freedoms we have. Do you want to keep them?

There are those who say, "One vote can do no good." or "one vote can do no harm," but one vote has lost a precinct, one precinct a state, and one state has lost a national election for a party. If these people should become interested in themselves and their career, they would no more stay away from the election than their own homes.

So take an interest in the State of the Union and prove wrong all those who falsely criticize our way of life. If the American people aren't interested in the affairs of their city, state, and nation, who will be?

You may mark your ballot for Truman, Dewey, Wallace, or Thurmond and, by doing so, you will be taking an interest in your country and its freedom. Remember, Freedom is everybody's job.

Thomas Jefferson once said, "How little do my countrymen know what precious blessings they are in possession of." Was he talking about YOU? —B. Goodner

I am sure all of you have seen the various signs located throughout the campus advertising the VIKING yearbook. The yearbook staff is trying everything from hooded to plain campaign signs in order to prompt students to get a VIKING.

Maybe it is just wishful thinking to say that the yearbook will be the best thing you can do for yourself, never-theless. One thing is certain: if the students support the yearbook with the same enthusiasm with which they support other things, the yearbook will be a great success. News of us has time for memories now, but ten years from the present we would like to remember who our classmates were and what the homecoming queen looked like. It's a good chance to recall all of the good times we are having now.

The VIKING is striving to be useful to the student. Please keep in mind that it is a record for you about your activities in college.

The Yearbook editions in the past have been very good and we are quite certain this yearbook will be the best. Jack Simpson, the editor, is well-qualified for his position and is doing his utmost to make the annual a success. He announced this week that the annual will have several features which were not in the past yearbooks. The entire staff wants to make the yearbook and asset to the students, and it can do it WITH YOUR HELP.

The faculty sponsors, Mrs. Rita Bruton, Hon. Thomas, and Charles Wilson are providing their capable assistance to make this the best yearbook ever published at North-eastern.

The staff is pushing sales this year with an extensive campaign drive. This year's goal is to sell 100 more books than have ever been sold before.

The main drive begins November 1, so let's do our part to make the VIKING a success. Subscribe to the VIKING. —M. L. Frye

Henry Van Dyke said Christ chose an image which was familiar when he said to his disciples, "Ye are the salt of the earth." Christ simply meant that they were to cleanse the world in which they lived, to keep it from decaying, to give a new and more wholesome flavor to human existence.

Every student who is attending college is a disciple of his parents' life. We are being sent to college to gain and learn assets which will establish us in future relations with domestic and foreign people alike; therefore, we should strive to attain the highest goal possible. Education is not acquired by one through habit. It is a product of unremitting effort. When one slips by the wayside while walking the path to higher learning, he is not scorned and laughed at by foolish beings, but he is no reason for us to deliberately trip ourselves and become entangled in problems which could easily be avoided.

...I hope that Truman will, I mean that I'm planning to vote for him. However, I don't think I will vote Dewey.

GLEN HUNTER, Miami, Reg: I think Governor Dewey will win because the people know the right man when they see him. You can bet your boots and saddle that I'll vote Republican Nov. 2.

WILLIAM CUNNINGHAM, Miami, Reg: I would vote for Dewey, Truman, but I see the farmer is the officer. He gained the presidency because of the death of Roosevelt.

KENNETH CANTWELL, Wyannton, Reg: I think Dewey is the man because he has had a good record as Governor of New York. He has provided the G.I.'s of that state a bonus, he has torn up the under world. Just a plain old farmer like myself, I voted for Dewey.

JOHN FINDLEY, Miami, Dem: Truman for me—main thing, he is a Democrat.

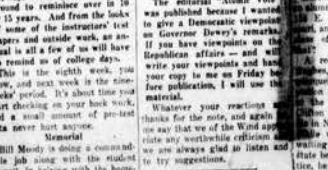

JIM BUCHANAN, Grove, Dem: Truman will win. He is the right man on the right platform.

HILL RANNEY, Miami, Dem: Truman is the man for the job. One reason is that he is a Democrat. Also, since he has been Governor of New York he has decreased the state debt to a large degree.

JIM WILLIAMS, Clamorous, Reg: Dewey would be a better man for the job. The farmer is the backbone of the nation and Dewey owns a farm so he would be able to understand the farmers problem.

Also, since he has been Governor of New York he has decreased the state debt to a large degree.

Typhoid Shots, TB Tests Are Offered At Infirmary

Tuberculin skin tests, typhoid series, and vaccination against smallpox are all available at the college infirmary, according to Mrs. Dottie Hall, infirmary nurse. The infirmary, which was established in May 1948, is the second building east of the boys' dormitory. It works in co-operation with the Miami Clinic, located in the Security Bank building in Miami.

Open from 9 to 5 every morning and anytime in case of emergency, the infirmary serves veterans and their families living on the campus, the faculty, students and all employees of the college. In severe cases requiring a doctor, one is sent from the clinic. Shots and medicine also are obtained from the clinic.

Mrs. Hall, wife of J. R. Hall, school nurse, is a registered nurse, having received her training at St. Joseph hospital in Pittsburg, Oklahoma. His address is Box 274, Bartlesville.

A request for the Note Wind comes from Fred Claggett, 1712 N. W. 27th, Oklahoma City. What are you doing, Fred? Are you at Oklahoma City University?

Rosie Mary Minson, '48, is attending Northwestern State college at Tahlequah, working toward her B. S. in Business Administration. Her home address remains No. 2, Vinita.

She and Rossian Bryan are where he is employed in a plant. They indicate that they will mail their names back to Oklahoma to finish his educational Tableaux next month.

There's news of one who was absent: H. E. Wilson, Warren, Minn., and he was a member of the class of 1932. Can anyone top that?

A recent letter from Clifton Claggett, '48, comes from Albuquerque, New Mexico. Upon completion of his work in the school at the University of Oklahoma, Clifton chose to join a friend of his in New Mexico to practice law.

While waiting out the 4 months waiting period required in that state before he can sign his practice, he has purchased an interest in a small hotel, The Park Inn, Write him for reservations at The Park Inn, Corner of Eighth and Cooper, Albuquerque.

Keep the news coming, and we'll be all of you Homecoming, October 30.

COLLEGE PREX WATCHES SHOW

The demonstration is generally designed for the 600 officers who are brought to the proving grounds each week, but civilians, because of numerous money questions they would like to have answered, are brought in each week also.

The demonstration last week, which the Oklahoma student body attended, was the third presentation of the show.

President Carter was the main attraction. He presented an article report on the show, which was Miami Daily News' first week.

Goblins Are For Big Halloween

Looking forward to a big night at the Homecoming game and dance? It should be fun—but here's a word of warning: better beware, "cause 'The goblins'll get you if you don't watch out!' Yes, it's almost here again; the season when witches run wild and anything can happen. From bobbing for apples, cracking nuts and popping corn around the fire to parading the streets in series costumes performing harmless—though often daring—pranks, the activities of Halloween are enjoyed by both young and old.

Business Club Is Organized

One of the newest organizations on the campus is the Business Society, composed of 102 students majoring in business. Sponsored by Mrs. Gladys Copan and Miss Thomas, business instructor, the purpose of the club is to acquaint members with various types of business and their makeup. This will enable the students to have a better knowledge of what will be expected when they enter a higher field of business education.

Officers recently installed are: Charles Miller, president; Cecil Robinson, vice-president; Rosemary Grubb, corresponding secretary; George Cooper, recording secretary; and Fay Beebe, treasurer.

The club will meet regularly in the cafeteria area. Guest speakers will be Paul Campbell, C.F.A., who is to present a talk on principles of accounting.

Alumni Chapter Honors Sorority

Alpha Tau, alumni chapter of Sigma Iota Chi sorority, entertained active members and guests with a dinner party at the Ford Presbyterian church on Friday, Oct. 22. Autumn leaves, orange tapers, and pumpkin cream with fruit on orange and black crepe paper streamers decorated the dinner tables.

Mrs. Virgil Cooper, Mrs. M. Brown Stansell, and Mrs. Charles Fox, patronesses, and 21 alumni members were present.

Guests were Corley Givens, Harriett Dunn, Wanda Kunk, Philip Conner, and Betty Henson, active members.

PAT TRUMAN COMES HOME

(Continued from Page One) clothing "Life With Father," in which she played the part of the maid who cried, and "Pardon of Hippocrates," where she sang the lead. She also took part in the "Dish House" and in the musical "Good News." She has a way home from New York that she saw "Street Car Named Desire" and "Milk and Honey."

Besides her interest in dramatics, Pat has a "passion" for music, good and bad. At the present she is a featured vocalist at 545 p. m. daily over WGLA where she is able to display her musical talents.

When asked about her plans for the future, Pat said, "I think that the Middle West has a big job to do for the legitimate theatre. I'd like to be a power in this field."

Chorus Sings On Hay Ride

The members of the chorus were not discouraged by the rainy weather on Wednesday Oct. 20, the night for which a winter quest and hay ride had been planned. Approximately 50 members, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Richards, attended the party, which was held at Ben Stanley's cabin on Grand Lake.

Entertainment was furnished by the group itself. A wide variety of songs, ranging from church hymns to modern music, was sung. Later in the evening, with the help of Mr. and Mrs. Richards, a square dance was organized with David Bartlett, president of the chorus, providing accompaniment on his guitar and Harriett Dunn accompanying on the piano. Card games were played throughout the evening.

Hot dogs, potato chips, and omelets were served for refreshment. Transportation was provided by Bill Matlock. Members of the refreshment committee were Wanda Kunk, Jack Renegar, David Bartlett, Virginia Houston and Elaine Stowell.

Sigmas, Phi Sigs Perform On Stage

The Sigma Iota Chi and Phi Sigma Xi presented the assembly program last Thursday.

The Rev. H. H. Coley of the First Methodist church led the devotional service. Bill Moody made the announcements and turned the program over to Curtis McLaughlin, master of ceremonies.

The first number was a humorous reading given by Bill Goodner. Miss Helen O'Neil played the all-time popular selection, "Deep Purple."

Red Eagle would have turned down his cowboy boots and girls, starring Bill Alley and Puggie Kantrowitz and featuring the new Jack Renegar and Bob Green with Helen Hunter playing the comedienne. Ken's band played the popular tunes and Charles Sipka assisted by his piano playing. At this was followed by the outstanding direction of "O'Neil's" band.

The Sigma Trio, consisting of Carol Loop, Jerry Lee and Virginia Houston, sang "Daphne." A skit was given by Glenn Hatcher and Bill Bond.

The Glens played his version of "The Glens" and Tom Richard who concluded the program by singing the curtain.

COLLEGE QUEEN TO BE CROWNED

The Engineers society plans to feature petroleum and chemical engineering and their queen, Marjorie Karpis.

The Arize and Aggieites merged forces for their first which features school and football. Miss Geneva Lake is queen of the groups.

Miss Betty Bowman will preside over the sophomore Frolic, which carries out the theme of football and homecoming.

The Little Inventory plan to enter a float that carries out the theme of a hay ride, and girls going on a picnic.

Judging of the float is to be based on the basis of originality, general appearance, charm and beauty, efficiency, appropriateness and time and labor involved in decoration.

It's The Curves That Count

Second All-School Dance Sponsored by Press Club

Social activity on the campus of Northeastern A. & M. advanced another step Friday night, Oct. 15, with the second all-school dance of the year in the college gymnasium after the Northeastern-Little Rock football game.

The dance, under the direction of the Press Club, was the first to be sponsored by an organization on the campus.

"Approximately 250 students and their guests attended the dance," announced Ben Thompson, Press club president. The gymnasium was attractively decorated in red and white, the club's official colors. Festoons of various designs on the ceiling were hung at either end of the gym.

Don Clark and Hazel O'Brien were in charge of the musical music. Other Press club members who served as the various committees were: Max Hazzard, Lindy Thompson, and Kenneth Williams, Thelma Fox, and Kenneth Williams, Shirley McVay, Nancy Gibson, Mary L. Williams, Ed Bennett, J. W. Hittington, Marshall Smith, and Herb Spitz, decorations, Ray Vanderburg, sponsor of the evening, was the chairman of the committee.

Special guests at the dance were the members of the Little Rock football squad.

YOUNG DEMOS
The League of Young Democrats, under the auspices of Harry Jean Apter, sponsored the registration of students for the 2nd election here Friday. Marshall Smith and Fay Beebe contacted and registered a sizable number of the voters' commitments. Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Austin were the first eligible voters registered.

If there is continued difficulty in starting the vote, it may be due to an unusually adjusted check control.

Judges for the float contest are to be announced during the parade.

Following the football game Saturday night, a dance honoring the old grads will be held in the college gym with Benne Johnson and his orchestra furnishing the music.

Norse Forward Wall To Test Ag Backfield

Northwestern Oklahoma A. & M. football team have shown their offensive strength in the first half of the game against the Little Rock team.

The Vikings were much needed yesterday. Cameron's power is built on the strength of his backfield. The Vikings will need this to get a lead in the conference series, or at least a tie.

Upstream Cameron moves into Miami for a conference tilt with the Vikings Saturday. The Vikings will need this to get a lead in the conference series, or at least a tie.

Boxing To Funderburg Explodes For Two Counters

Domestic complete mastery over a lighter Eastern Junior welterweight, but unable to stop the Eastern brawler.

Northwestern Oklahoma A. & M. boxing team will be in action for the first time in the state championship.

Thomas coached the O. M. A. center for three years, with last year's squad being perhaps the finest array O. M. A. has produced for some time.

College Is Resuming Oval Sport

The coming of spring will find Northwestern Oklahoma A. & M. resuming oval sport.

C. K. Ripper, assistant football coach and director of intra-mural athletics, will sit at the helm of the track squad this season.

With a total rebuilding job under way in the Little Rock backfield, more fine race material from the Viking football team.

Sports Pace America; Give, Take Your Share

What is the most important pastime of the average American? Nine times out of ten the reply will be some kind of sport.

Baseball draws a bigger crowd than any other sport in the world. This is due to the fact that annual school sports and communication cannot afford the high cost of expensive football equipment.
