Foreign Students Visit Lion's Club At Noon Meeting

Students from neighboring countries are being entertained by the Miami Lions Club. Each Friday the Lions Club is the host to two students from neighboring countries who are attending Northeastern or Oklahoma A&M. This is a project of the United Nations committee and will be continued until all the students have attended a meeting.

Merrill Chancy, shop instructor at Northeastern, is president of the Miami Lions Club, and he is active in developing good fellowship toward the students from neighboring countries who are attending school at Northeastern. Chancy said that this project that the Lions Club was sponsoring would help the students to become better acquainted with Miami and its citizens and also give the Miami residents a better chance to become acquainted with our neighboring countries.

Stillwater Hosts BSU Convention

Oklahoma A & M campus at Stillwater was host to the Baptist Student Union convention which met on their campus November 5 and 7. The meeting was a very large state-wide meet that convenes every year.

Next year's convention is planned to be held on the Oklahoma University campus. During the three-day program, the "Blithe Spirit" from Oklahoma Baptist university of Stillwater was performed for the evening meeting. With at Stillwater, the group witnessed the Saturday afternoon football game between Detroit University and Oklahoma A & M Aggies.

Facilities were provided by the Stillwater institution for the benefit of the group and the guests. The BSU members meet every day at noon in the Baptist Student Union adjacent to the new building on the campus. At these meetings devotions are given by different students and several songs are sung.

The members of the BSU ordinarily visit all students to attend any of these noon meetings at any time.

Football Game

Highlight of the days activities will be the traditional football game in which the Norseman will be host to the Cameron Aggies of Lawton. Kickoff time will be 8:00 on college field.

STUDYING THE NORSE WIND is Miss Lou Bowers, journalism major from Miami, who was recently elected state Junior College Program Director for the Oklahoma Collegiate Press Association. Lou received this position during the Stillwater meeting.

ALBION LACY, halfback from Blinnock, holds on to the ball in game between the Norsemen and the Conners Aggies. The Aggies lost this game to the Norsemen, 47-20.

Conners Proves Easy Prey In Third Conference Game

Taking the Conners Aggies in their stride, the Golden Norsemen of NBO marked up four touchdowns in the first 10 minutes of play, and only the gracious hospitality of Coach (Red) Robertson prevented a monotonous succession of Norsemen touchdowns. The final score was, however, 47-20.

The score could have been astronomical, but Robertson sent his first stringers to the showers early and used reserves the rest of the way.

Seven plays after kickoff the Norsemen had moved 71 yards to their first touchdown. Terry Connell, Earl Shuck, and Jim Winters had mixed it up between themselves for the 71 yards with Winters eliminating the long drive by going over for the TD, Connell converted.

The second touchdown was set up by an Aggie fumble recovered by the Norsemen on the 20-yard line. The fumble happened to be the first play of the game for the Aggies, and they fought valiantly to hold the Norsemen and did for three downs, but were charged with pass interference at the 10, which broke their backs. Connell and quarterback Hughie Morris converted the ball to the zone from where Shuck plunged over. The conversion was no good.

Early in the second period the Norsemen had pushed the ball back against their goal. Conners got off a short kick which was taken on the 47; a few plays later fullback Frank Hicks went over for the TD and added the extra point.

The fourth touchdown was set up when quarterback Warren Berry intercepted an Aggie pass and was downed 23 yards short of the goal line. Gus Spradley then broke through for 18 with Berry going on over for the other five. Frank Shuck converted giving the Norsemen a slight edge, 24-0.

Conners then settled down and went on a little drive themselves with halfback Jerry Coburn breaking through the middle for 7 yards to hit pay dirt. That made it 24-6 to a pass for the extra point.

Berry returned the ensuing kickoff to his own 47. Halfback Alton Lacy took over for another 41 yards to the Aggies 12. A couple of plays later, Berry passed 12 yards to end Ed Miller in the end zone. Score: 40-6.

In the third period the only score was made up by Conners. Andy Scott plunged for the last five yards and Jim Midanich kicked the extra point.

Norsemen made the score 47-12 as Hicks took a shovel pass from Arthur Goddard and waded his way to the Aggies 12. He also split to uprights for the extra point.

Conners took the kickoff on the 20. Then on their first play halfback Dale Catron found a hole at tackle, drilled through and went 23 yards short of the goal line.

The trouble was that duck season starts officially start until next Wednesday. From that on, however, it extends each day from half an hour before sunrise to half an hour after sunset. Duck season ends in Miami at precisely 8:18 Christmas evening.

If you, as a duck hunter, have the time factor firmly fixed in your mind you can turn your attention to the licensing problem.

In the first place, you've got to have a Federal duck stamp, which you can get at the post office for 25 cents. You also need a state stamp in ink to make it good.

On the state level, you'll need a regular Oklahoma hunting license unless you are over 65 or under 16, or are a disabled American veteran of the extent of at least 40 percent, or if you are a soldier home on a 18-day leave of absence from a post outside the state of Oklahoma.

Otherwise you're stuck for the two bucks.

So now we come to the actual shooting. You can't use a rifle or bow and arrow if you've got the nerve, but if you use a shotgun that can't be more than 10 gauge and your shotgun can't hold more than three shells.

If your shotgun takes more than three shells, they won't take your word for it that you only had three shells in the gun, either. You've got to plug your gun with a complete metal or wooden filler that can't be taken out without disassembling the gun.

Now as to where and how you can hunt. No stipulation, if you were thinking of it, can be used. Neither can an automobile. Ducks and geese are relatively tame and should be kept that way. If you do attempt to hunt in a dense area, most of the tables and docks in chains are relatively tame and should be kept that way. Notes Dana were from a stubborn Pennsylvania team after a scoreless first period and scored two touchdowns in each of the last three quarters for 47-7 victory. Penn surprised the heavily favored Irish, driving down to seven and yard.

Notre Dame snapped back down field in sustained marches for touchdowns.

Iowa spelled Purdue's last hopes of Big Ten honor, scoring four times in first half, coasting to a 25-14 win.

Army revealed tremendous offensive power, crushing liberator Webster Van, 48-7. Cadets scored on the first play launched from Tommy Bell, who made three touchdowns. Sponyry led the opening game when he broke his collarbone, scored twice. Yale ground defense, presently most effective in country, yielded 319 yards to Army.

Navy, three-point underdog, registered a stunning 60-0 win over Duke. Midshipmen piled up 248 yards on ground and did not allow Blue Devils to score until final period, when second-stringers were in charge.

Harvard completed one leg toward a Big Three title, beating injury-riddled Princeton for first time in eight years, 14-0.

Game of the week: Saturday, by the margin of a single point, Georgia gave Florida a beating. But when the Bulldogs had finished

Arkansas remained undefeated after second-half drive to overcome Rice, 28-15. Kansas sophomore George Walder scored three touchdowns, completed 14 passes good for 118 yards, and picked up 160 yards on ground, including a 75-yard punt return for a touchdown. Dickie Moegele starred for the Owls, running five punts 117 yards.

Last Conversion Tyler One Point Win

A last-minute pass play and a successful extra point try gave the Tyler Junior college Aggies a thrilling 20-19 verdict over the Golden Norsemen at Tyler, Tex., Thursday night.

The Norsemen had held a 19-15 lead with time running out in the inter-sectional battle. But a 27-yard aerial from Apache quarterback Ray Toole kicked in seemingly impossible fashion to set up Tyler's final score.

The pass came on a fourth down and was obviously of the desperate variety. No less desperate was halfback Dave Lutz's leap for the ball. Though crowded by Norsemen Hughie Morris and Jim Winters, Lutz managed to pull in the ball and stumble to Northwestern's feet.

Tyler took a 6-0 lead in the first period on an eight-yard pass from Toole to left end Mac Reynolds.

Then on the first play of the second quarter, Apache fullback John Bailey fumbled on his own 27 and Norsemen tackle Ralph Berg recovered. Three downs later the Norsemen scored, the payoff coming on a 15-yard pass from quarterback Arthur Goddard to end Raymond Bold. Frank Hicks converted for the extra point giving the Norsemen a 7-6 lead at half time.

The Golden Norsemen opened their third quarter by launching a touchdown drive from their 40 and went all the way. Fullback Terry Connell and halfback Earl Shuck and Jim Winters registered short gains which moved to Tyler's 12. From that point halfback Winters broke through the line and literally bowled over the Apache secondary to score. Connell missed on the extra point try.

Shortly after the second Norsemen touchdown, the Apache countered with an 80-yard drive to hit pay dirt and tied up the score. An 18-yard pass from Toole to Duwayne Gandy carried to the Norsemen 12. From there the Apaches moved the ball to the four where Lou Loverton led the line to score. Knox's conversion tied the score at 12-12.

Foundation of a 10-point game, the Apaches found a hole in the Norsemen line and scored on a 20-yard pass from Tommie.

Harvey snapped the game with a 20-yard pass to Tommie. The scoring kickoff saw Tyler halfback Winters Gandy return all the way to the Norsemen's 47. A 40-yard punter which put the "Texans" winning effort in motion. Gandy also helped with the Apaches' ground offensive which advanced to the 25 from where, on the fourth down and time running out, Toole heaved the fatal pass to Lutz.

Bob Bledsoe, Apache tackle, rightfully claimed the decisive star of the game. But reportedly, Jibed Apache ball carrier and was a blocking specialist as well.
