

Across The Editor's Desk

The News Wind will blow, and we will have snow, and what will the birds do then? You get it. This little piece of mis-quotations should not be out of place since the "weather" outside is "fighting" or at least has been.

Best weather of the winter forecast. By the time the WIND blows, old Ed will probably be eating his rays 'round again.

SCHRAMM WRUNG

Last week an election was held to determine by popular choice what students or students enrolled in Northeastern A. & M. college could qualify for a list of "inviting" meals.

The idea behind the so-called "Who's Who" is to give credit and honor to students who merit it for just having.

D. ARRON BURR

Such a year editor reports was the idea. But then things changed. It is not only the opinion of this editor but also of some pretty well informed people that some of the candidates had some well organized backing.

It seems incredible that the news of the being backed lacks the substantial grounds (GUTS) to support it.

Whether the candidate is an independent who makes grandstand play to gain one of the coveted spots or a person who seeks the votes of an organized group, the students of this college decide with THEIR OWN MINDS, and will vote candidly, right people will be elected regardless of party affiliations.

Viking Popularity Contest Run-off Stared for Monday, Feb. 16; Thirty Students Vie for Recognition

M. Palmer Will Lead His Class

The Sophomore class elected officers for the final semester, Wednesday, Feb. 4. During the election many political factions were brought to the front. Outstanding of these factions was the one employed by the independents to make a clean sweep into office and to elect an all independent ticket.

The presidency race was won easily by Moody Palmer, a popular Miami student, who previously has held the office of president of Press Club, honorary leader for Red Raiders, Student Council Representative for Freshman Class of 1946 semester, temporary Vice-Chairman of League of Young Democrats, and until recently, Sports Editor of the "News Wind".

Bill Melton of Strang was elected to the post of vice-president. As a playing member of the Oklahoma 1947 football team, he was acclaimed 2nd string tackle on the All State team. Fred Jones, Jr. was elected to the post of Master at Arms in the order of L. D. B. fraternity.

At the position of Secretary, it was James Wafford of Talala, Oklahoma, a very able worker and a thoughtful student. James has been an energetic worker in the Veterans organization and has been influential in the Spartan operations.

An unusual situation presents itself in the post of treasurer, since Horace Quastelund of Colwyn, Oklahoma holds a similar position in the Omega Psi Chi.

Officers Selected By Frosh

Raymond (Pie) Gailley, Quapaw Student, was elected to head the Freshman class for the second semester during the class election held last Thursday.

J. R. Hall, Fairland, who was the former president, was returned to office as vice-president. Other aides to the president include: Son Kaywood, Berman, secretary; J. E. Anderson, treasurer; A. J. (Sonny) Doublitt, Miami, reporter; and Bill Alley, Tulsa, and Samuel Conroy, Sapulpa, student council representatives.

Time Is Needed A.A.U.W. Asserts

"Time is needed in Oklahoma to meet the problems of providing equal educational facilities for Negroes."

This opinion was conveyed to state officials and educational leaders last week by Mrs. W. Pratt Sutton, state education chairman of the Oklahoma division of the American Association of University Women.

In sending this message Mrs. Pratt expressed the A.A.U.W.'s confidence in the state and education leaders in working out this pressing problem now before the legislature.

Discs Keep Spinning Despite Petrillo Ban

The squares who find the jargon in this kick column hard to dig, missed the boat, if they didn't see "Song of the Thin Man." I take my hat off to the ingenious script writer of the movie. He explained in square terminology the sometimes un-limited vocabulary of the cat.

Now that you know the scores, let's dig a few of the later releases. Johnny Mercer takes a small trip to the "Thousand Islands," in a novelty scat tune of the same name. At times it seems as if Mercer is straining too much, even for the type song he is singing.

Numbers: Ten Records is out with "A Girl That I Remember" and "Suzanne." E. Dwyer comes through with "The Whistler Song" with "I Met My Baby in Macy's" on the other side. "With There's a Woman." This disc is the latest, with a touch of Egyptian background. Stafford isn't as reared on the vocal as he usually is, and the intro is too strong, but other than this, it's a good O.K. On the other side Benny and the band does an eighteenth century chamber number that sounds almost semi-classic.

New York City's exports total about $4,000,000,000 a year and imports about $2,900,000,000. Guy Lombardo tried a change of style or maybe heart and cut a disc that is almost musical. It's "You're Dangerous, Crying." The intro is decent with the lyrics very fine. If it's all the same though I'll wait until a band without a bass horn runs the tune.

Synchronizing your Micky Mouse watches, cars, and listen to Bing and the Andrews sisters' late release of "Apalachicola." This is definitely a two-beat Micky in its rarest and truest form, or perhaps this scribble doesn't appreciate the music of the Gay '90's, brought up to date.

For a change of tempo dig the ballad "Familiarity" by Perry Como. This is almost a dream song, in fact is sleep on. The beat is faint, with the mood slow and smooth.

On the album list dig one of the latest Victor albums "My Wild Irish Rose," from the movie of the same name, by Dennis Day. This month several of the name boys have released the following:

Engineers To Have Dance And Banquet

Engineers' Day will be observed on the campus on St. Patrick's Day, March 17, as announced recently by Mrs. Owen Nease, engineer and chairman of the Engineers' Day committee.

Two professors from Oklahoma A. & M. at Stillwater will present lectures during the day at the college gym. Prof. E. J. H. Fritze will lecture on "Electronics in the Petroleum Industry in the Rubber Industry." Dr. Crawford's speech is scheduled at 1:30 p. m.

The Engineers' banquet will be held at 6 p. m. at either Spartan or the college gym. From 8 to 11 p. m. the Engineers will hold their dance to which all students, faculty members and their friends have been invited.

Students eligible for membership are: Helen Malone, Bill Graham, Thomas Prater, Phyllis Graham, Kenneth Cantwell, Charles Stivers, Allen Hayden, Dora Britt, Delphia Connor, Leonard Tunnell, Dorothy Hall, Dixie Freeman, Norman Jones, Austin Grossman, Harriett Dunn, Willis Cunningham, Forrest Soure, J. F. J. Fushon, Charles Ray Miller, Floyd Jack Simpson, Rosemary Grubb and Moody Palmer.

Phi Theta Kappa Selects Members: Twenty-two students are eligible for entrance in Phi Theta Kappa. To be eligible for membership, a student must be carrying 15 hours, twelve of which are in Arts and Sciences, must have a grade ratio of two, which is a "B" average, and must rank among the upper ten percent of the student body.

Jack Hudson, secretary of the club, said that the club is now in a position to accept new members. He said that the club is now in a position to accept new members. He said that the club is now in a position to accept new members.

Moody Palmer People's Choice: The position of Chief Leader of the Phi Theta Kappa, honorary scholastic fraternity, and was representative to the Student Council for the Engineers. Norman Jones, at the other vacancy is of Fairland and is regarded to be one of the best students scholastically in college.

Bill Morris, veteran, student at Okla. A. &. M. He would be willing to see such a plan go into effect. If we don't form some kind of a unit, things will be tough for this country. Russia has tremendous resources, more than we do, and if we aren't prepared the Red will be able to march right in on us.

Compulsory Training Answer To Security?

Do you think compulsory military training is important for the United States in its world position as a world power? If so, would you be willing to see your brothers, friends, and even yourself participate in such a program?

Yes, I would be willing to have a part in such a program. I think it is necessary at the present time to maintain a large standing Army. It might prove a great asset to us in the future.

Edward Witten, Commerce, Okla.: I don't think it should be compulsory. If anyone wanted to go in and have a year, the government should provide the training. I wouldn't be willing to go back in.

Jack Hudson, secretary of the club, said that the club is now in a position to accept new members. He said that the club is now in a position to accept new members. He said that the club is now in a position to accept new members.

Tom Hixson, Miami, Okla.: Yes, there has always been war and there always will be. I could take the training if other fellows would, and think we should be prepared to defend our country. It wouldn't hurt anyone to have a year's training.

Joe Milton, veteran, Bartlesville, Okla.: Yes, I think it is necessary for our best interests. If they are going to put the boys in though they should teach them to fight, instead of giving lectures.

David Merville, Miami, Okla.: No, I have seven years of college ahead of me. If I lost a year from my schooling now, it would be hard to begin again. Germany had compulsory military training, and look what happened; they were the best to aggress. I don't think barracks-room life is an improving factor in the lives of the youth of this United States.

Pigeon Losses To Act At O. C.

The Oklahoma City Shooting Club, headed with champion and popular fly fisherman, might take notice of the night open-house championship in the state Oklahoma being tournament. Along with the championships will go a trip to the Chicago boxing tournament in this month.

Pigeon Riley, vice Miami president at Oklahoma City, lost to Henshaw, Acton, former national champion. At the outset of the fight, Riley landed a terrific right that almost floored Acton, but Acton, a very polished and experienced boxer, came on to knock Riley out in the third round.

But Parker, OMA light-heavyweight who fought at the Miami tournament as a heavyweight, has reached the finals in the light-heavyweight division of the tournament. He gives notice that he will be tough in next year's open division.

Committee Prys Into Wage Scale

A committee on summer school and salary scale reported their findings to President Bruce G. Carter last week.

This report was in compliance with a request from the State Board of Regents for Higher Education. Its purpose is to ascertain what equities exist between the junior and senior colleges of the state. The board has asked all colleges submit their recommendations as to what is being paid and what is recommended.

The following categories with a salary range for each were set up by the committee as applying to the various departments of the college:

- (1) Dean of the college.
- (2) Heads of departments.
- (3) Instructors with masters degrees, with a major in this teaching field, and/or closely related subjects, with a minimum of 5 years teaching experience in his field.
- (4) Instructors, with masters degrees, with limited experience in his teaching field.
- (5) Instructors, without masters degrees, with limited experience in his teaching field.

They also recommended that:

- (1) The registrar and the librarians of the college should be considered as instructors with scholarly training and experience considered.
- (2) Coaches with at least half-time teaching load and/or holding some executive position in the college are eligible for the maximum pay in his bracket.
- (3) Married instructors may also be eligible for the maximum pay in brackets 2, 3, 4 and 5.
- (4) A minimum annual salary increase of $100 for all instructors is justified.
- (5) A substantial leave of 12 months should be made available to instructor after the completion of seven years of consecutive teaching in the college. Half of the annual salary should be paid to the instructor taking the sabbatical leave for advanced training, research or writing in his field of work.

President Carter contends that the only way to have a good teaching staff is to pay them well. Says he, "I'm definitely in favor of good salaries that will, in turn, go a long way in providing good teachers for there's a strong relationship between good salaries and good teachers."

Thirty-seven places in the U. S. are called Berlin 21, Rome, and 19, Vienna.

Jackasses Play Basketball, Too

The Spartan Mule Skinner Jumper over the Aggie Club with scores of 26-26 in a thriller double-basketball game last Wednesday night at the college gym.

Rules for the game were to be the double when passing or shooting the ball. This seemed to be a bit rough going for both teams. The rules, as they are recalled, also included dragging the opposing player from his animal when possible. During the game the floor took the worst beating, as several players were not able to control their donkeys.

The game was sponsored by the Aggie Club and proceeds went towards purchasing club jackets for the immediate members.

Games Grow Slim; Basketball Fades

The remaining schedule:

Feb. 17—Bacone college, Muskogee.

Feb. 20—Murray A. & M. Tishomingo.

Feb. 24—Cameron A. & M., Warner.

Feb. 26—Cameron A. & M., Miami.

Landon, Coley Score Freely

The Murray Aggie maintained their victory march by signing post the last Northeastern of Northeastern A. & M. college, 62-52 in an Oklahoma Junior College game played here Friday night.

Both teams gave a demonstration of basketball seldom seen on the local court. Both squads were well supervised in conference competition and the win by Murray could mean the conference crown.

Shooting pay dirt from all over the court, the Aggies jumped into an early lead, piling up the score with long field goals. They led 42-14 at the half-time.

Trailing badly, the Northeastern with their star forward J. E. Landon and guard Max Coley flung the hoop before to pull even and with five minutes of the game remaining the score was 50-28 in favor of Murray.

From this point the Aggies managed to clear off every attempted rally to hold a two or more point advantage for the rest of the game. The final score Murray 48, Northeastern A. & M. 38.

Tournament Opens Monday

The Norse Wind pug pug tournament will officially open Monday, Feb. 14. Play is tentatively scheduled for the Student Union.

Men's eliminations will be the first to be disposed of followed by the women's singles and men's doubles and the win by Murray could mean the conference crown.

Brackets will be made by drawings as quickly as all entries are in. Pairings will be posted on the bulletin board and each contest will be supervised by two judges. Each contestant will play three games with the winner of the two best out of three declared the victor.

All entries that have not been posted by Monday noon will not be accepted.

Winners in the singles events will be awarded a steak dinner, and suitable prizes will be made available for the doubles winners.

Rambling With Mom Palmer

N.E.O.A.M. was honorably represented in the "Voice-Golden-Diamond" recently, and her representatives did themselves proud. Fighters Pidgeon Riley and Norval Trank received state-wide acclaim in the Tulsa World, before and after the fight.

The heralded fights between Riley and Ward of Tulsa, and Trank and Horn of Sand Springs lived up to their expectations. In Trank's case, many favorable comments toward Pund's having won, not lost, was heard. Regardless of the outcome, we are proud of their showing and the honor they all achieved.

J. W. Brewington, Tulsa golden glove's novice champion, meets Norman Byrd in the 160 lb. open. Bill Nelson will offer strong competition to Cecil Maxwell in the heavyweight pairings.

Back Victor, one of the most flashy boxers of the college, tangles in the heavyweight division with Jim Best of Tahlequah. Victor is moving out in the novice section.

Harley Brown meets Bill McMichael in the 160 pound class, and Fred McDunneer pays his respects to Paul Davis in the 175 lb. class. Both fights are in the novice section.

Other Tahlequah boxers who have not been matched yet are Kenneth Horn, heavyweight; Andrew Vann, Billy McKown, and Clarence Best, all novice fighters.

The fights will be held in the Tahlequah gym at the 7:30 p. m. starting time.

The Viking team is under the coaching of Jess Fronterhouse.

The American Association of the University Women met last week and awarded the Mary K. Hambrick scholarship of $25 to Miss Johanna Pearl Gross for the spring semester, 1948.
