

These news stories are so long and so full of facts, they both have been and will be read by the boys. They usually have a good idea, and many just time they'll have the prize going to the one with the loudest shout.

Speaking of loud shouts reminds me of some of the boys on the campus thought that the "red neck" slogan was a good idea, and many just time they'll have the prize going to the one with the loudest shout.

Henry Carmichael is asking Miss Mascher for the copyrights of 14 of his tunes, including "Stardust," which are coming up for their second copyright term in 18 years. Carmichael is a suit filed in the U. S. District Court, claims that after the expiration of the original term, co-writers become the sole proprietors of the copyright, a similar suit has been brought by Billy Rose, Mort Dixon, and Ray Henderson against Brunswick Records.

Tomorrow May Be Too Late
In a classroom a few days ago the instructor mentioned the controversy centered around the proposed Bricker amendment. The moments of silence that followed clearly indicated that the majority of the students neither knew nor cared what the Bricker amendment was. Finally, the question was asked, "Just what is the Bricker amendment?" When it was explained that the Bricker amendment was a proposed amendment which would prevent the President of the United States from making a treaty with another nation, without the consent of Congress, there was still no comment by the students. The general attitude appeared to be, "So what? This doesn't concern me; let the government worry about it."

It may be well to remind you that it definitely does concern you. The students of today are the politicians and administrators of tomorrow. A good example of the effect that governmental policy has on us, the people, is the decision handed down by the supreme court of the United States vs. Pink case a few years ago.

The late President Roosevelt had reached an agreement with Mr. Livinson of Russia that clearly violated the statute of the state of New York. When the New York authorities attempted to enforce the law of the state, the supreme court held that an executive agreement was the supreme law of the land and therefore superior to the New York statute.

In regard to the arguments over his proposed amendment, Senator Bricker said, "Most of the opposition to this treaty-contract amendment comes from those who yearn for the domination of a super-state government. Some of them would surrender national sovereignty immediately; others would destroy it gradually by means of United Nations treaties and by less formal agreements while others would first establish a regional government."

Wake up, Young America, wake up and act now—tomorrow may be too late.

Little Man On Campus by Bibber
A young thanks to be out of the college's most active citizen, Bruce Clark, student council president, in his handling of the parking situation around the campus.

Clark was placed in charge of the operation by the administration, and with the help of campus car poolers, plus the Miami police department, has made the campus safe and safe against traffic hazards.

In his courteous way, Clark asked everyone's co-operation—receptive and grateful we do have an aggressive student body.

We noticed in the mail this week, "The Mountain Almanac," Air Force ROTC, Eastern Oklahoma A. & M. college periodical, Honorable Lt. John E. Sucky, former AF ROTC instructor here? Lt. Sucky is now commander of the program at Eastern.

I came across an article that might suggest you by NEG's ROTC since the Military Mail is being suspended. The article said: "In a mass meeting of the AF ROTC units at Eastern Oklahoma College, Wilhoit, Oklahoma, the Honorary Cadet Colonel for the 1944 Military Mail was elected. His name is Charles Ann Baker, a freshman from Heavener, Oklahoma, was the first winner. Here is a statistical picture of Mr. Baker: Age—17, Weight—162, Height—5'7", Hair—Brown, Eyes—Brown, Complexion—Fair, Hobbies—Reading, Sports—Baseball. From the descriptions we are inclined to agree. Glad to hear from The Mountain Almanac."

This week I am going to tell you a little about some of the things that are going on in the city. I'll try to make it as interesting as I can.

Don Cornell, the star of the Hammy Kaye orchestra, used to be a middle-weight boxer and still looks a lot like one. He stands five feet 11 inches tall, weighs 160 pounds, has brown eyes and dark hair. He lives in Manhattan and was born in the Bronx.

I have often wondered just how old Frankie Laine is, and I imagine many of you wonder how old he is. He is now forty-two, and was born in Chicago.

If you have been wondering why Rosemary Clooney has not made many records since her marriage to Joe Ferrer a few months ago, the reason is that she is still in the hospital. She is still recovering from a bad cold she caught in Columbia, and you can be looking for some new record releases soon.

Henry Carmichael is asking Miss Mascher for the copyrights of 14 of his tunes, including "Stardust," which are coming up for their second copyright term in 18 years. Hello Alumni
By Mildred Gideon
Mrs. Harry F. Nelson, the former Miss Gela Anne Kendrick recently acted as hostess for the luncheon of the Alumni of the University of Oklahoma at the Royal Danish. C. Ains has this to say about the dinner: "The dinner was really beautiful. Never have I seen such lovely China, crystal and silver. The ballet of the Crown Prince fell like a bomb on the program. The British Ambassador sat to my right." Mr. Nelson is vice-president of the Alumni. They like in Copenhagen and he is now, Eric, ten months old. C. Ains graduated from here in 1927.

Jim Campbell, '50, a senior in the College of Arts and Sciences, at the University of Oklahoma, is student co-chairman of the 14th annual career conference at the University of Oklahoma. The conference will be an event of March 23 and 24.

John Carter, '32, will graduate in June from the Cumberland University in Cumberland, Tennessee. Harold Snyder, '30, is working in the Postage in Washington, D. C.

William Frazer, '48, is making an outstanding record for himself in the U. S. Army. He is also a member of the college chorus and Phi Theta Kappa.

Gordon is now studying his fourth semester in Art under the leadership of Charles Banks Wilson, art director. When asked where he plans to finish his education, he replied, "I'm not sure if at all possible." He added that after graduating he would like to go to a studio of his own and continue to work and study as a profession.

Faculty Dames Have Annual 'Hubby' Party
A party, in the form of a buffet style supper, was held by the Faculty Dames in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Bruce Carter Feb. 20.

The committee in charge of food and entertainment included Mrs. Roy Vandenberg, Mrs. Homer Thomas, Mrs. Carl Ferrer and Mrs. Howard Matthews.

After the supper, the group adjourned to the basement play room, where they played games, listened to musical recordings and were entertained by a humorous skit prepared by club members.

Mrs. Malcolm Rippy, Jr., Vinita, and Mrs. Minnie Funderburk, member of Mrs. Carter's party were. Others enjoying the party were: Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ables, Mrs. Estelita, Mrs. and Mrs. Roy Campbell, Dr. and Mrs. Carter, Robert Bruce Carter, John Carter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. William Estes, Mr. and Mrs. Ferrer.

Miss Virginia Lindsey, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Matthews, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Payton, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Richards, Mr. and Mrs. S. Albert Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. William Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fryer, Mr. and Mrs. John Thieling, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Vandenberg, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Wilson, and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Wood.

Who has the loudest voice on the campus? That was the question held by the Sigma Kappa at their annual meeting on Wednesday, Feb. 15. The winner of this contest was Tommy Meyer. His prize was a large sack of popcorn, but he said he didn't get to enjoy them, because all the losers helped him get rid of them. The "red neck" slogan was a good idea, and many just time they'll have the prize going to the one with the loudest shout.

Spotlight Turned On Art Student
The Art Department spotlight this week is on Gordon Boyd, sophomore from Joplin, Mo. The spotlight will show the completed work of Gordon's first attempt in casting.

Using Joyce Giger, also a Joplin sophomore, as a model, Gordon has been working many weeks to perfect his sculpture work.

Outside of his many art studies, Gordon has a hobby with which he spends many hours, this being classical records. He has quite a collection of them but says he is mostly a fan of Toscanini. He is also a member of the college chorus and Phi Theta Kappa.

Gordon is now studying his fourth semester in Art under the leadership of Charles Banks Wilson, art director. When asked where he plans to finish his education, he replied, "I'm not sure if at all possible." He added that after graduating he would like to go to a studio of his own and continue to work and study as a profession.

Veteran Gives Opinion On Age-Old Question
By R. E. STOVALL
Ever since Georgia granted the vote to the 18-year old in 1943, the question of 18 years voting has been tossed back and forth without much having been done about it. The issue was pushed back into the spotlight in 1952 when the then presidential candidate Eisenhower came out in favor of 18 year voting.

There are 6.3 million youngsters in the age group 18-20, of which 3.2 million are boys who are subject to the draft for military service, which pinpoints the top-most argument for granting the 18 year vote.

The argument is: "If they are old enough to fight, they are old enough to vote." Should a person's voting intelligence and responsibility be based on the ability to carry a gun? And what of the 3.8 million girls who would be affected? Would they be granted the voting privilege on that basis?

Some experts think that younger voters would balance the power of the aged at the polls; in Georgia, however, the voting pattern was changed little, if any, since the younger persons vote pretty much the same as their elders.

Some will say that teenagers are not sufficiently mature to vote. To realize that many youths of 18, 19 and 20 are immature, take a look at the high rates of crime and traffic violations of this age. Of course, one person may be mature while he is 20, and another may be immature at 25. In the English-speaking world the age of 21 has proved to be a good standard.

At eighteen a person is not sufficiently mature or familiar enough with the processes of government to cast a wise vote for the man of his choice. The 18 year old lacks mature judgment and the Elizabeth Hatis, registrar, stated Wednesday, Feb. 17, that "we must crack down on students who leave as 'T's' on their record at the end of the semester." She also stated that there was an appalling number of students in this category following first semester work.

An announcement was placed on the bulletin board, that students must carry any "T's" on transcripts or they will receive "F's" in such courses.

"From time to time the instructors should check on such students, who during the semester seem to be falling in order to prevent this, if possible," the registrar said.

Feb. 26 is the deadline to clear all "T's."

"Although the problem is not out of hand by any means," Mrs. Hatis stated, "I am sure that if we all make a sincere effort, we will be in the direction of checking closely the progress of our students. There will be fewer 'T's' as the term. After all we're supposed to support them all the way. . . . We'll see."

So let's all show up for the registrar's program, and show the boys we're behind them.

Keeping Up With The News

Education of Dan and Pete

New Desert Dan And North Pole Pete Came to college. To try their feet. They studied lessons. And did their task. Always doing willingly. What the Teachers asked. New Desert Dan Was from a far off land Where the heat was 110 in the And when he found time The Summer was fine! But in the snow he sat. New Desert Dan And North Pole Pete Found life in the U. S. Really quite neat. People were quick With a big smile And the American girls Were really worth while! North Pole Pete Suffered in the heat When it was 70 above. But when the blizzards blew It was just like his home. A blessing from heaven above. Now a year went by. Then three and four. And for our education. They couldn't have more. But they said this. They left our land. "You should thank God. You have his land."

TALKING PANHELLENIC—Dr. Bruce G. Carter, president, left, discusses sorority with Mrs. Anthony E. Bott, who is Grand Worthy Matron of Sigma Iota Chi sorority. Mrs. Bott is making a special visit to the local campus Saturday.

Sigma Grand Worthy Matron Is Guest of Local Sorority

Mrs. Anthony E. Bott, Grand Worthy Matron of the Sigma Iota Chi sorority, visited on the campus last week working with the local chapter. She was greeted by Shirley Harris, local president. Bott is a native of Bella Vista, Ark., and in 1933 was named State Mother of the Year, Golden Rule, Foundation. She sponsors the affair, then named her American Mother of the Year. In connection with this title, she toured Europe, meeting with other leaders of women and national matters. Mrs. Bott also toured the U. S. and gave lectures on the "Importance of Good Homes."

Press Club Hears Ferree Talk on College Policies

Cecil C. Ferree, dean, was guest speaker at a Press Club meeting, Feb. 18, in Dr. Bruce Carter's basement. Mr. Ferree pointed out the importance of an effective college newspaper and praised the work being done by the Norse Wind staff. He also stated that in order to have an effective paper, the students writing for it should be familiar with the objectives of the college; those being to provide a schedule to suit all needs, and a healthy, cheerful atmosphere in which to live.

THE TEST OF HONOR

A professor at the University of Indiana has advised the publishing staff of the Norse Wind to maintain classroom desks in a loose arrangement around the podium about three feet apart. Then he left, telling the students they were on their honor. But if anyone was found to look at another person's paper, everyone else would be on their honor.

Picher Musicians Entertain Here

The Picher high school girls' chorus, under the direction of Paul Moore, music instructor, gave a varied selection of popular, spiritual and classical songs in assembly, Feb. 19. One of the highlights of the program was a solo by Norma Braden, entitled, "I Don't Know No More" from the musical stage play, "Oklahoma."

AN ORIGINAL College Student Opens The Door To World of Fashion

The old maxim "What you are to be you are now becoming," holds true—at least in this case. Three original creations, all made from the finest cloth, have received the finishing touch of the artist at North-eastern A & M College. The artist is Jack Jeffrey, sophomore.

Time's Annual Tests Given

Winners in the eighteenth annual Current Affairs Contest have been announced. They are Margaret Nichols, Miami, with a total of 50; Bob Jackson, Miami, and John Hand, Shawnee, with a grade of 48; and Clarence Dill, Penn.

College Selects New Radio Staff

College radio announcers for this semester have been selected by the journalism department. Warren Nordstrom, Earle Hillis, Harold Nix and Wilma Jones are the newly elected announcers. These students will prepare the news to be broadcast daily over the local radio station KGLC at 6:15.

JUST TALKING

When the Northeastern A & M football team...
Coach Ross Thomas feels his greatest problem will be that of filling the shoes of pitchers Leroy Deason, R. S. Davidson and catcher James "Public" Henry.

Returning letters from last year's state champs include infielders Roy Carpenter, Dwayne Sullenger, Wayne Love, Nate Gibbs, and outfielders Lennie Graham and Bill Kerr.

Letterman Bob Meyers and Harold "Blue Heron" Niblick will bolster the mound staff, with Eugene Clark helping with the catching chores.

Thomas proved a little more conservative by saying "We've won the title two years in a row and we hope to do it again."

Deason, a strapping 6'4", 200-pounder, enrolled at midwestern and played for the team football at S. A. "Big" Robertson holds the white next fall. He will major in Physical Education.

After leaving Iowa, Deason was sent to Camp Pendleton, Calif., for an additional two years. During this time he filled two defensive tackle slots for the team football team.

With his experience and size, Deason should be a valuable asset to the 1954 edition of the Golden Norsemen.

The Northeastern A&M Golden Norsemen will meet the Murray Aggies tonight at 8 o'clock on the home hardwoods.

Hungover by lack of bright and shoddy defense, the Norsemen will pin their hopes on the books and jump shots of sophomore guard, Bob Carpenter.

The Norse will close out the season tomorrow night when they meet the Parsons Junior college team in the college gym.

Several days of letters around the state will be spent by the old basketball diamond located out of the football field where the softball game will be played.

When Bartlesville sport columnist, Lindy Davis, reported that Mickey Mantle, New York Yankee outfielder from Commerce, Oklahoma, had been asked to make a $1000 cash in salary a year ago, Mantle denied, giving out the news via the "New York Times".

It seems that Mr. Davis has crawled out on a limb in an effort to prove that the Yankee front office isn't quite as high on the Commerce Coast as the general public is led to believe.

A prominent member of Northeastern A&M's outstanding football team has taken the time to write that he would like to make it into the ROTC football players who are contributing a great deal toward the improvement of the college.

Former NEO Gridder Back On Campus

Joe Deason, former student and A&M and veteran of four years in the Marine Corp, has returned to NEO to continue both his education and football.

Deason, a strapping 6'4", 200-pounder, enrolled at midwestern and played for the team football at S. A. "Big" Robertson holds the white next fall.

After leaving Iowa, Deason was sent to Camp Pendleton, Calif., for an additional two years. During this time he filled two defensive tackle slots for the team football team.

Thinclads Look Toward Better Season: May Enter Aggie Relays

Spikes flash and cinders fly at the Northeastern A & M thinclads prepare for the first lap of the 1954 track season.

Such speedsters as sophomore Lennie Graham, Wayne Love, Bill Burgess and John Barham, will form the nucleus of the sprinting and distance running attack.

Barham and Burgess lead forward the 440 yard dash and mile relay. Taking the longest jump of all will be Bill Kerr who bears the sole responsibility of the distant mile run.

Barham and freshman Jim Winters, a couple of potent "homerunners", will head the high hurdles and low hurdles departments, with sophomore George Baker and freshman Dwayne Harvel handling the pole vaulting and broad-jumping respectively.

Winters was last season's Class "B" state champion in high school last year and is being heavily counted upon in that department this year.

Harvel will be the department mile runner to wear the blue and gold in several years. In his first year...
