ENGINEERS DAY TO BE HELD MARCH 17th

The President's Box...

By DR. BRUCE G. CARTER

ALREADY the pressure is on during these remaining days of school. Yesterday we finished the first semester and only yesterday we started another semester and yet Commencement is just around the proverbial corner.

For many of our graduating sophomores these last few remaining days will be all the formal education that they will be able to receive. Some forty percent of our graduates usually go on to a four year college.

As you enter into the last lap of the race are you satisfied with your use of your time during the months of your "race"? Have you done your best? Are you satisfied with your grades and actually your learning? Have you shown the leadership during your college days that will be remembered as beginning of a career? Above all have you taken time to make friends and to be a friend? The friends that you will really have through life are probably the friends that you have cultivated and nurtured during your stay in N. E. A. & M.

During these few remaining weeks take time to develop some lasting friends. Select the ones you consider truly worthy and show them that you, in turn, are worthy of their friendship. If you have friends you have a really thing! If you don't have friends you don't have much. You will not only find some of the finest and best of friendly material among your student body but you will find some well-kept potential friends in your faculty groups.

Across Editors Desk
When most campus organizations present a "copy," it's usually for the publicity manager to read and forward to the editors. But not so in the case of "Shiners Day" thanks to Tom 'Curley' Neet and John Thinning, members who have made "Shiners Day" strictly for NEO news.

Platter Chatter
By JACK JERRY
"Hi Gang!" It's Platter Chatter again with the latest low-down on the music world. Who do you think of when you think of the music world now days? Liberace, who else, I know you have all heard of him in one way or another in newspapers, or radio, and most likely on TV.

Footwear Down The Ages Is the Saga of 'Homo'
By R. E. Stovall
Look at your shoes. Did you ever stop to think about them? How did they evolve? Who were the first to wear shoes? How did their present style come about?

Writer Thinks Spring Sports More Valuable Than Others

By Bill Powell

What part do spring sports play at Northeastern Oklahoma A & M?

At present, the answer is that the school is a school of the winter months.

It is not until the first of April that the school opens its doors to the spring sports.

At that time, the school opens its doors to the spring sports.

At that time, the school opens its doors to the spring sports.
