How To Fish Course Begins

Want to learn how to be a fisherman of the first water? Then prepare to attend a fly and bait casting course at Northwestern Oklahoma A. & M. college beginning April 18.

Ernest C. Carter, president of the college, today announced that the Rev. Harvey H. Cody will teach two night classes—Tuesday and Thursday—until a course of eight lessons is completed. Study and practice periods will begin at 8 p. m.

The course will include practical casting in the gymnasium with lessons on all types of fishing from fancy casting through cast pole angling. At the end of the course there will be a fly and bait casting tournament awarding appropriate prizes going to the winners. The course is open to men, women and children. Price of the course is $5.

Two miles with champion Joe Louis, but the young Charles is another story. Whether the aging veteran can stay out the gun shot of the local police is a question that will remain unanswered until the I.B.C. world match at the International Boxing club's first big promotional attempt.

C. C. Biggs' track team has been plagued with bad weather since he issued the first call to practice, but a three-man squad carried the colors of N. F. C. at the Aggie relay last Saturday at Stillwater.

Jack Purdie, David Sippy and Gene Holland were representatives from Sippy's spring hospital. Tryouts were held between L. N. "Alvin" Collins, Clyde Gena and N. F. C. South. These are the only Biggs expects to build his track squad around. Doubtless as in the long and middle run while the other boys concentrate on the shorter distances.

Purdie is also an exceptional hurdler.

Before the boys embarked for Stillwater with Hena Thomas, N. F. C. publicity director, Biggs said he would turn the meet up to "the boys" and the "big boys" will be making the "big boys" by further comment.

The International Boxing club made rapid connections with such distinguished promoters as Sam Backer, Charleton, Irv Scholten, and Jack Begon, promoter Chicago promoters, and Nick Lofgren in Detroit. Louis further stated that the I.B.C. would make affiliations with other promoters as readily as possible.

It was a foregone conclusion that Chicago would be awarded the fight, although other cities had made "firmer offers" which were carefully considered. Backer was reported as offering a half million for the right to stage the affair.

With the heavyweight title now drawing the biggest round of attention at the present time, Louis announced that he would promote a fight between Featherweight Willie Pep, or his recent title twin, Sandy Saddler, and an outstanding featherweight contender. This fight is only in the temporary stages.

Many of us are asking ourselves who is going to be the next heavyweight title bout. What do you think of the challenger last year in his

Two back, Kenneth Wilkerson and Sherman Wilson, and guard, Jimmy Coddling, reported from Barnard, N. J. Wisconsin sent top-player, Donald Cook, a guard. The middle of the state was represented by two candidates from Chandler, Joe Cunningham, half-back, and guard Harlan Clark, and a trio from Deavenport.

The Deavenport gridiron report was Myron Corbun, a junior, 200-pound center and line-backer, Willard Spivey, a quarterback, and Bill Tipton, halfback.

Bill Frederick and Tommy Allen came up from Holdenville. Frederick is a halfback and Allen sprays the pigskin back.

Coach Robertson said that the 33-man squad of Viking freshmen would continue to practice all this week, with an intra-squad game scheduled for today. Several of the high school players will return Thursday for the scrimmage.

The publicity committee is planning a "big boys" meet for April. Members who wish to go are requested to check their names on the bulletin board.

B-Society Races To Top Spot

With the Businessmen pulling a few games victory over the first placed Aggies, the Business society jumped back into first place in the college bowling league with a two game gap separating them from the runner-up Aggies.

Last Thursday the Businessmen caught the Aggies hitting their longest slump of the year and resolutely took advantage of the break to pull within striking distance of the leadership themselves.

By dumping the Aggies, the Businessmen are only four games out of the first place position. One more week of competition could lift them past the Aggies if they don't administer at least two losses to the red and white.

On the other hand if the Aggies spank the Business boys tonight, mounted in their past the top of the stack. It will be a dismal situation for the Aggies if they don't administer at least two losses to the red and white.

Marshall "Mott" Smith jumped into the top spot in the high level individual series column and the high game rolled recently with scores of 268 and 218 respectively.

Smith's high game score is expected to remain on the board for some time, but the high series should be shattered in the near future.

The appearance of Harry Conway has lifted the Engineers from the mediocre category to a first rate bowling team. Conway had 247 in the past game, along with "Mott" Smith, since moving into the starting position.

The league started with inexperienced bowlers but is developing into an above average league.

Such bowlers as Pete Peterson, Jack Weston, Conway, Smith, J. T. Baxley and Joe Kouri are being counted on to post fresh scores on the standings board before the league season is over.

Tennis Spotlight Is On Sippy, Bond Duo

Although the dates haven't been posted for the intramural tennis matches to begin, a strong field is going to be on hand to attempt to wrestle the crowns in singles and doubles competition.

A potential doubles combination is Charles "Chip" Sippy and Keith Bond. Sippy received his tutelage while attending Vinita high school and Albert Collins, 115-pound hand acquired his "racket skills" at Tulsa.

Sippy excels in backcourt play while his partner, Bond, works in devastating style around the net. This duo promises to afford the tennis addicts some big worries before the volleying has ceased.

Director C. C. Biggs was not fully decided on a starting date for the league, but stated that it would be in the future spring sport plans.

Sippy and Bond have been getting familiar with the cement nets behind the mechanics shop. The newly acquired courts have been

Softballers Hit Diamond

Intramural softball practice started last week with ten teams reportedly hitting the diamond. In spite of strong winds and cool weather, the Phi Sigma Nu fraternity and the Aggie Society began loosening up squares for the future battle of the intramurals.

The intramural championship trophy was taken by the Red Raiders last year, with the Veev Club and The Engineers Society as runners-up.

The date for the first regular game is still uncertain.

Topoka Owls Arrive Here For Practice

The Topoka Owls, some 20 of them, rolled into town last Monday evening and are now getting acquainted with local conditions and accommodations at their quarters on the north campus of Northwestern A. & M. college. All are housed in a single building, one of the former Sparta Spring school barracks.

Accompanying the Topoka Owls were pitchers and catchers assigned to Miami's offering of the Kansas Western association outfit.

The first ball was pitched Monday, opening the five-week tryout period. Two limbering sessions, one in the morning and another after noon, is expected to take place each day.

Tomorrow the bulk of Miami's youthful squad will arrive, the outfielders and infielders.
