FOREWORD

Bearing in mind that a college annual is to throw light upon the activities and spirit of the institution from which it emanates, it was definitely decided at the first of the second semester this year, that this school should and would have an annual.

To derive a name for this publication the abbreviation of our junior college which is J. C., was modified to Jay-See. Not only was this found to vary the abbreviation but it created a new species of birds, now known as the Jay-Seer, around which the theme of this book is woven.

This is not intended as an apology but it is hoped that you will not be too harsh in your judgment of this first generation of its species. We also sincerely hope that this initial attempt will result in a bigger and better annual each succeeding year.

C. S. WHITNEY, STAFF ADVISOR

Mr. C. S. Whitney who is our beloved and respected instructor in mathematics is, perhaps, more than any one person responsible for the successful publication of the Jay-Seer. The members of the annual staff take this opportunity to express their appreciation for his interest, cooperation, and advice in this undertaking.

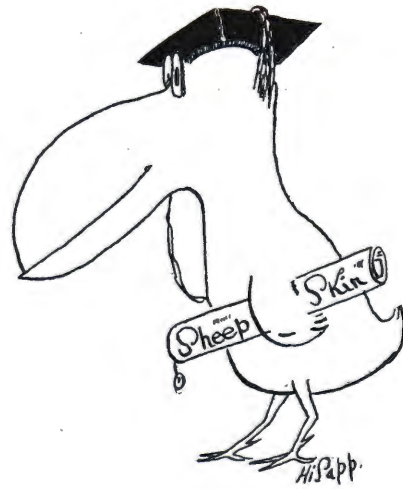

THE JAY-SEER STAFF

(Portraits on opposite page.)

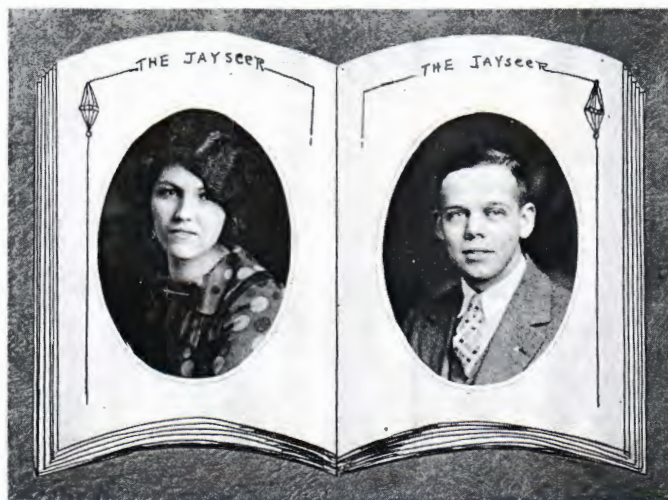

"WHAT kind of cover will we have?" "What is a cut?" "How do they reduce a picture?" "How do you mount an engraving, just like a horse?" "Do they get these zinc etchings in the mines?" "What is a copper plate?" and "Oh; what will we name it?" are only an insignificant sized sample of the multitude of questions which were in the air when the Jay-Seer was in its infancy. Some of the staff could answer all of the questions and all of the staff could answer part of these questions but it was pretty close to the end of the year before all of the staff could answer all of the questions. We hope that next year's staff will profit by the experience (not the mistakes, as egotistical as it may sound) of this year's staff.

SOPHOMORE CLASS PLAY

"BRIGHTON EARLY"

This farce in three acts was presented by the Sophomore class, May the fifth. The money derived from this play was used to pay for the use of the caps and gowns of the Sophomore class. Fred Barbee very creditably directed the play. The presentation was made at the Glory B theatre.

SYNOPSIS

- Act I. The lawn at Mrs. Perrington-Shine's country home. An Egyptian present. Trouble for the groom.
- Act II. The library at 8:00 p. m. Trouble for Billy Jackson, the susceptible.
- Act III. The same library at 11:00 p. m. Trouble for the burglar. Eloped at midnight.

FOOTBALL MEN

Paul Williams..... Coach
 Drexal Moyer..... Captain
 Jack Nagel..... Publicity Man

MEMBERS

Although this gridiron aggregation has not had the breaks during the most part of the season it has shown that the real material is present. Coach Paul Williams says, "they have been a real bunch of fellows and have won fairly and lost honorably." Captain Moyer has been very well satisfied with their work this year. Publicity man, Jack Nagel, told the players, "Gentlemen you have done well and I want to congratulate every man individually for his spirit, attitude, and work during the football season of 1925."

Forty-four

(BY A SPECIAL MESSENGER)

The King of England

London.

Dear George:

How are you? I am fine. I see the Jay-Seers and Coffeyville Junior College tied in a game October 30th, 7 to 7. What do you know about that?

The Madrid Moan says Moyer, Turner and Miller were the outstanding players.

Give my regards to the Queen and the noble Earl of Sussex.

Yours truly,

The Queen of Spain.

SCENE IN THE BAKER HOME, 129 F STREET NORTHEAST,
THE NIGHT OF NOVEMBER 13, 1925.

Ashur is playing on the floor with his blocks. He runs to his father's knee.

Ashur—"Papa, can I get out tonight?"

Mr. Baker—Just a minute. I see you lost today.

Ashur—But I made a seventy-five yard kick.

Mr. Baker (severely)—But you lost.

Ashur—The Wesleyan boys won only 13 to 6.

Mr. Baker—Enough of this quibbling. You lost.

Ashur—Yes sir, but——

Mr. Baker rises.

Ashur—Oh, papa, don't whip me. Please.

Exit Mr. Baker and Ash.

TORRID JAY-SEERS

DOWNED 12 TO 0.

Said the whistle, "Tweet!" Said the Jay-Seers, "Ouch!" The Kansas State Teachers College boys were hard. It was the Jay-Seers' first game.

The Teachers hit in the second quarter, "Bang!" Said the Jay-Seers as the Teachers scored, "Dang!"

Shouted the Jay-Seer co-eds, "Oh Boys!" Said the Teachers, "Oh Boys!" and feasted their eyes as the Jay-Seers completed pass after pass.

Said the Jay-Seers, "We lost, 12 to 0."

Said their classmates, "We lost more than that."

FROM THE CONGRESSIONAL RECORD.

Mr. Borer—Mr. Chairman, I ask unanimous consent to have published in the Record an account of a football game between the Euchee Indians and the Jay-Seers, played November 6th, at Miami, which the Jay-Seers won, 30 to 0.

The Vice-President—Is there objection?

There was no objection.

The Vice-President—It is so ordered.

The article may be found in the appendix to the Record.

Mr. Smook—Mr. Chairman, I move a Congressional medal of honor be presented Baker, Smith, Turner, Foust, and Moore, who starred in that game.

Mr. Robinhood—What! Such meager honors for such meritorious work. Is America so occupied she cannot pause to pay fitting tribute to great players as are these men? God forbid!

I move you, Mr. Chairman, their names be inscribed in the Hall of Fame, every ship in the navy be named after them, Compost Smith be unanimously elected President to take office at once, the other boys be granted free access to the Treasury!"

Cries of "Hurray," "More, more!" and the like.

The Vice-President—Is there objection?

Loud shouts of "Gosh, no!" stomping, cat calls and whistles.

TO THE ED

Having wrote Cracks for years. I felt like I could fill the bill when J. Nagel asked me to write for the sports section, since I hear it's going to be a joke anyways.

I and the Mrs. saw a game between NEJC and Missouri Wesleyan alleged to have been played Oct. 4, at Miami. A boy named Johnny Foust which blocked a punt and one Herb Dixon which fell on it for a touch down winning 6 to 0 along with Ash Baker and Dinty Moore starred. The Mrs. couldn't see it that way.

"Mordecai Ackley helped the most," she ejaculated.

"Why he's at home sick," rejoined your handsome correspondent.

"I know it," she melodiously returned.

Yours,

King Lardner.

THE UNSOLVABLE MYSTERY

"No, Watson."

I looked up. The great detective's attitude caused me to throw down my juicy number of True Stories and pay rapt attention. For with his huge pipe fogging, his flabby chair beneath him, his feet cocked on high and his powerful brow wrinkled, I knew I was to learn something.

"What's it, Sherlock, old man," I ventured by way of opening the conversation.

"It's this, Watson. There's no such thing as an unsolvable mystery."

"No?" I shouted, quivering inwardly, outwardly and from head to foot as the full force of his statement struck my eager brain.

"No!" he thundered, striking the table. He jumped up. I jumped up. We came down together.

"Quick, Watson, the needle!" Holmes whispered. Something was up. He braced himself. He felt better. I sensed a mystery.

"What's it," I inquired in a low tone.

"Someone is coming." "How do you know," I asked admiring that power of deduction. "I hear his step." "Oh!" A man walked in. It was the King of France.

Holmes seized a revolver. "What do you want," he yelled at the top of his voice.

"How on earth," said the King of France. "How on earth did the Jay-Seers lose that Thanksgiving game when they had Smith, Moore, Ackley, Baker and Turner on the team. The score was 34 to 10 and the Bacone Indians won."

Holmes bit his lip. "I don't know," said he. The great detective was beaten.

DREXEL MOYER, CAPTAIN

Weight, 160—Captain in 1924 and 1925. He was forced out of the game in the middle of the season due to an injury. Played half-back.

PLAYERS NOT PICTURED

HERBERT DIXON

Weight, 155—Played tackle. Said the King of England of him, "An unusually fast man. A football man from way back."

FORD BARNES

Weight, 180—Home, Miami—Played center. Never made a bad pass. Great defensive man. Holy bonds of matrimony broke a brilliant football career.

LANDY TURNER

Weight, 145—Played half-back. Counted as four men when the lineup was announced including his name, whereby the J. C. team gained the famous sobriquet "The Twenty-man team," meaning, of course, that Turner counted as eleven men when the title was used. The team also was known at times as "The eighty-man team," meaning, then, of course, that Turner counted seventy men himself when that name was used.

DINTY MOORE

Weight, 148—Played half-back. First became famous by the use of his name in a well known cartoon. His fame increased as he became known the world over as "An unusually fast man."

JOHN FOUST

Weight, 153—Home Welch—Played guard and tackle. An unusually fast man—a star player in every game.

GARLAND (Compost) SMITH

Weight, 160—Made the team two years—Home, Vinita. Played the backfield and end. Unusually fast man.

EARL STEWART

Weight, 150—Quarterback—Home, Delaware. Played every minute of every game, hardest fighter on team.

ELMER PENNINGTON

Weight, 163—Left tackle—One of the most consistent players on the team. Arm broken at Carthage. Tried to whip a Pittsburg man.

KENNETH ACKLEY

Weight, 154—Played tackle—An unusually fast man, brave, fearless, allowed no one to call him "Mordecai" which name he abhorred.

A. J. BAKER, JR.

Weight, 183—Was on the team three years. Played full-back. His punts averaged forty-five yards. Made several seventy-five yard punts. An unusually hard hitter.

RAYMOND MILLER

Weight, 156—Played guard. The name, "Miller," in the lineup, never failed to bring the ejaculation from twenty million throats, "Why don't you play Missouri, Yale, or some other big team." The name, "Miller," always kept the big teams from accepting Williams' offers for games.

Although no inter-collegiate games were played this year, four practice games were convincing that all that N. E. J. C. needed for a winning basket ball team, was a gymnasium. We had the necessary material and much anxiety among the above pictured men. However, no gymnasium was available at the school and only a few times was it possible to get any other gymnasium in the city. It is hoped and believed that this school will have a gymnasium of its own in the immediate future as well as a new auditorium. Plans are now under way to secure appropriations for these two very much needed additions on our campus.

 Sponsor.....Mr. C. S. Whitney

The club was organized February 15th, with the purpose of sponsoring and encouraging tennis playing.

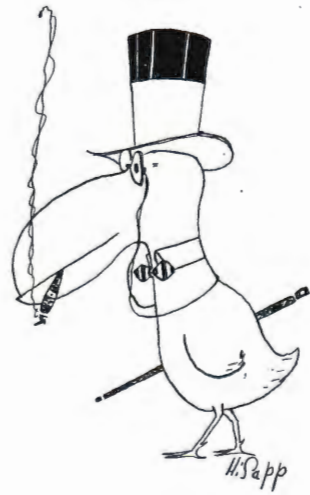

Although there has never been a club like this one in the school previous to this time, tennis has had an important place in the recreative side of the curriculum. The school maintains two double courts, one of which is conceded to be among the best in this part of the state.

In addition to the two double tennis courts the school is making plans for a golf course to be completed this year. The golf course will be for the students and the faculty of the college.

SOCIAL EVENTS

"THE COLLEGE MIXER"

On the evening of Friday, September 18th, more than one hundred persons attended the informal reception and get acquainted mixer held at this school. All students and members of the faculty were the guests.

A musical program, including both vocal and instrumental numbers was given by the musical department of the College. Stunts and games by the Freshmen and Sophomore classes also provided entertainment.

"HALLOWE'EN PARTY"

The college auditorium was beautifully decorated in hallowe'en festoons for the party which was held in the celebration of "Hallowe'en." A grand march started the evening's entertainment. Prizes were awarded to the most cleverly distinguished couples. Ackley's Collegian Band dispensed the music for the evening's dancing.

A spooky crazy house was instituted on the first floor and created considerable excitement. Eats were served informally—pop corn in the big black kettle, and doughnuts and cider in the library.

"SNEAKY SNAKE DANCE"

On the night of October 4th, a high spirited "Pep Dance" was given by the "Peppy Pirates" of N. E. O. J. C. on the corner of Central and Main streets. Raymond Frye, yell leader, showed much enthusiasm in his clever way of leading the "Gang." After several yells were given there, Frye led his bunch into Hadley's Drug Store where they were treated with cold drinks. The Pirates then formed a line and went to the Miami Drug Company where both drinks and candy were served. Frye announced the football game between the Ozark Wesleyans and the Jay-Seer Gridsters.

"JAY-SEER BENEFIT PIE SUPPER"

On Friday evening, December 10th, the annual staff sponsored an old time pie supper in the college auditorium. Raymond Frye was the clever auctioneer. Students came out in full force showing their willingness to help put the Jay-Seer over the top. After the pie supper, "Ackley's Collegians," seven red hot music makers, played for an informal dance.

"VALENTINE PARTY"

On the evening of Friday, February 12th, the Y. M. C. A. assisted by the Y. W. C. A. sponsored a "Valentine Party" in the school auditorium. The room was effectively decorated with multitudes of hearts and red and white streamers. An original program was given by the students and faculty members. The Jay-Seer film company presented their feature play of the season, "Wild Nell of the Plains," which displayed much talent. Those included in the cast were: Hazel Riddle, Eugenia Long, Wanda McGhee, Mrs. Hampton, Forrest Miller, Raymond Frye and Delmar Saunders. A clever oration was delivered by Gentleman Jack Nagel, former student of the Junior College, entitled "Which Is the Greater?" Readings were given by Ruby Butcher and Naydeen Herndon. A folk dance and a song in costume was performed by Marian Martin. Gearlean Baker gave a whistling solo and responded with an encore. The girls glee club gave a clever stunt displaying "Hats of other days." Doctor Dwight Allison assisted by Prof. Morgan made black art and magic interesting to all. At the close of the evening it was announced that visiting musicians had consented to entertain the party. The musicians, who were blind, proved to be none other than Troy Morgan and Beulah Parker, the latter a member of the faculty. A short story contest was held in which Helen Wilson won the loving cup. The evening was concluded with a delightful course of refreshments.

"FRESHMEN ELECT CAMPUS MONARCHS!"

"ALL HAIL THE QUEEN!"

"LONG LIVE THE KING."

Junior College is no longer a democracy. Friday night, January 8th, it renounced its freedom when a second coronation ceremony occurred. However, the subjects were willing and no signs of a rebellion were discovered.

At a party given in the college auditorium, Miss Bertie Thatcher, freshman, was crowned Campus Queen and Dick Wills, also a freshman, was crowned Campus King.

The subjects stood in two lines awaiting the arrival of the Royal Party. Miss Helen Whitney, acting as page and carrying the crowns of the magistrates and Coach Paul Williams, as archbishop, performed the Coronation ceremony. After the coronation the Royal mandates ordered festivities to continue, and they proceeded with enhanced gaiety. The remainder of the evening was spent dancing to music furnished by Ackley's Collegian Orchestra.

HIGH SCHOOL RECEPTION

Friday evening (as usual) April the ninth, the college was host to the seniors of the high schools of the county, and their instructors.

The purpose of the affair was to bring about an acquaintance between the collegians and the high school students and also to "show off" our building and equipment to next year's collegians. Various sorts of entertainment were furnished and refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. Souvenirs were given to each guest.

RAT DAY

St. Patrick's Day was celebrated with the annual "Rat Day" stunts sponsored by the Freshman class. Starting the day with comically dressed "Rats," events followed one another on the program, so fast that the spectators were left breathless and bewildered. At no time was the interest allowed to lag, throughout the day.

From Dick's "Packard," which led, to the farm implements, which ended it, the parade was a grand success. It included gorgeous floats, symbolic figures, lively images, of all sorts, and an unusually lovely Queen, "Rat's Cheese" Gearlean Baker, riding in the royal chariot with the king, "Rough on Rats" Russell Younger, and their attendants.

The grand finale to the most successful "Rat Day," ever held at N. E. O. J. C., came to a close with the coronation of the Royal Rats by the High Priest of Ratdom, Troy Morgan. Then the King ordered his loyal subjects to "cheese it."

The cast is to be commended on the manner in which they presented this play. Especially is Miss Rosamond McLaughlin to be congratulated upon the professional-like and superior manner in which she directed this presentation.

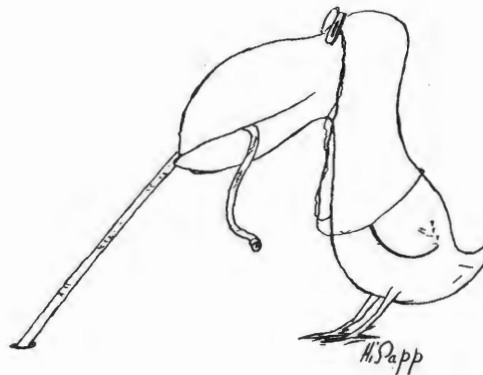

SYNOPSIS OF “BACKBONE”

Mr. and Mrs. Easton are perturbed at the apparent spinelessness of Willie Scott, for they decide to cure Elizabeth, their daughter, of her “foolish infatuation” for the boy. Willie is a bookkeeper in Barton’s Department Store, where he feels under obligation to his employer and to his manager.

A young lady who is a visiting guest at Elizabeth’s party, persuaded young Scott to send off for his horoscope. He has done so, and at the party, Miss Woodward (the guest) and he read the verdict which Willie is afraid to open. It tells him that he is fearless, determined, daring, and shrewd; that he can get what he wants. The effect of the reading is surprising. He believes it and makes it come true.

He whips a troublesome collector, tells Mr. Easton of his intention of marrying Elizabeth, seems indifferent to Elizabeth’s sarcasm, uncovers a theft at the store, becomes manager of the store, and Elizabeth’s finance. All because he has found his backbone.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

The Student Council, with the publication of this, the initial number of the Jay-Seer, has completed its third year of service to the students and faculty of Northeastern Oklahoma Junior College.

The function of the Student Council is "to provide and supervise a monthly social event in which all students take part, to sponsor the publication of the Jay-Seer and to serve as a medium through which the students and faculty may cooperate in carrying out the various activities which the school, as a whole, undertakes from time to time."

It is composed of four student members from each class and four members of the faculty, a few of the members having served but one semester, thereby making a group of more than the usual number.

The local Y. M. C. A. was organized about the middle of the first semester, of this year. It was decided to have a live, functioning organization, even if their number was small. Meetings were held each week, at the school, on Tuesday evening, and consisted of Bible study, current topics, and some sort of entertainment and refreshments. A few gospel teams were sent to rural school houses, to further the Christian work of the Y. M. C. A. It is expected that around this nucleus an organization will be built, that will be a great credit to this part of the state.

Although not very large, this club has had a very successful year and has worked out some good musical numbers. The Men's Glee Club has been very active in the advertising campaign, made for the college, by singing at many neighboring high schools.

It was not possible to get the entire group, for a picture, and as a result only about three-fourths of the number is pictured above.

The club has worked diligently under the excellent supervision of Miss Beulah Parker. This group has appeared in several performances and has been a great asset to the school. Up to this time the club has appeared in programs at the Miami, Commerce, Picher, and Quapaw high schools, the Hotel Kenoyer, and the College assembly.

THE COLLEGE ORCHESTRA

The orchestra has worked well under the splendid leadership of Miss Parker. Each member has shown a desire to co-operate with the officials in giving programs at the various high schools of the district. Each spring the glee clubs and orchestra and other talent from the institution give these programs at the high schools for the purpose of advertising the college. The orchestra has never failed to respond to these programs, to say nothing of the numerous banquets and parties for which they have played.

This is the first time that dramatic art has been taught in the college. The present class is the result of the school's own desire and feeling of a need for such a department. Although they have never presented a play as a class, the characters of the two plays offered have been chosen principally from this section.

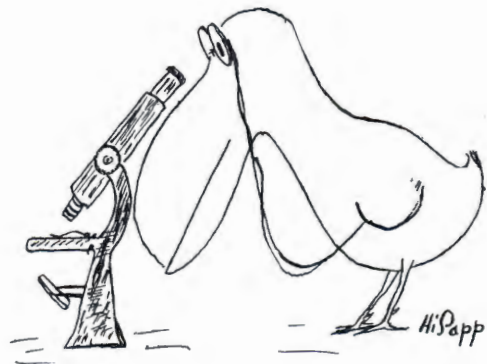

ACTIVITIES CALENDAR

- September 9—We start enrolling. Freshie question, "What's an hour?"
- September 10—Still rolling in.
- September 11—Second ditto.
- September 14—Class work begins. "Where is my class?"
- September 15—First chapel. Classes elect officers and student council members.
- September 17—First pep meeting. Jack Nagel tells Freshies their rules and evokes the wrath of Mrs. Rinker.
- September 18—First Freshie spanked. Troy Morgan walks in.
- September 20—As a result of the mid-night egg fight, there is a shortage of hen fruit.
- September 21—Still fighting.
- September 23—Sophs pleasantly (?) surprise the Freshies in an alley brawl behind Scotts Motor Co. Freshies seek revenge in hopes of catching some Sophomores at Commerce, but some of the citizens stone Freshies out of town.
- September 25—Freshman girls wield mighty paddle upon Raymond Frye. After this he looks for Freshman when he climbs in a car.
- October 4—We play Ozark Wesleyan College today. The locals hand it on the "show me" state boys.
- October 6—Idaho starts in his first unknown in chemistry.
- October 11—Asher Baker places on sale the song hit of the season, "The King of Spain."
- October 17—A certain member of the Sophomore class is accused of breaking the door.
- October 25—We play the Coffeyville Junior College. Didn't get beat either. Tied.
- October 30—Big Hallowe'en party. Plenty of entertainment too. Mr. Floyd brings out his favorite horseshoes.
- November 6—We give Euchees a drubbing by a lop-sided score. Rain.
- November 11—Armistice day. No school, goody!
- November 13—Everyone goes to Carthage to help our team win—but we didn't. Anyway, there wasn't any school.
- November 26—Same as above, only altered. Thanksgiving and we're thankful there's no school.
- November 30—Back again to our good (?) old classes.
- December 1—Boys begin to wonder what they're going to get their girls. Girls wonder what boys are going to give them for Xmas.
- December 10—Nagel states that his grades are just mediocre.
- December 23—We all go home for Xmas.
- December 24—All socks in a row.
- December 25—Christmas day. It came on the 25th this year. "Strange," pipes up Redman.

- January 1—Resolutions are made.
- January 2—Resolutions are broken.
- January 3—We again wind our weary way schoolward, with loud Christmas neckties and what nots. The what nots are of the latest cut and colors.
- January 13—Students suspect foul intention of the faculty and start cramming.
- January 15—Faculty members conspire against students and administer semester exams.
- January 18—"Did you flunk Chem?" is the common interrogation among lower classmen.
- January 21—History repeats itself. We re-enroll.
- January 22—Ditto above.
- February 12—Lincoln's Birthday, but we go to school just the same.
- February 22—Washington's Birthday. Why is it all great men are born on holidays? No school, so we are all glad that he was father of our country.
- February 28—Jack Nagel and Asher Baker, mouth harp virtuosos, render "The Prisoner Song," accompanied by Drexal Moyer. "Nothing like a large repertoire, so you can portray every situation," announces Moyer.
- March 15—Russel Younger elected Rat Day king, Gearlean Baker elected Rat Day queen, in spectacular contest in which Russell ran a close race with himself.
- March 17—Rat Day. We take the town—also Commerce. Big weiner roast at Shawnee lakes at night. Was there enough to eat?
- March 23—The big "assault and battery" trial is the talk of the school. However, it is postponed.
- March 30—Morgan and Landers come to school with their hair curled. Girls all ask, "Is it natural?"
- March 31—Idaho gets his 13th "unknown." Mob again gathers to hear the big trial. Postponed.
- April 1—Held international holiday for college students. So's yer old man.
- April 2—It is rumored that J. Byrd Butler did not go home for the week-end. The report is not official.
- April 4—Conrad Caldwell forgets to study his Geology.
- April 9—Big party for high school seniors of this part of the state, and their instructors. The biggest crowd that ever thronged the corridors of the institution, was present. The students danced all over the building, as a result of the lack of room.
- April 24—Big track meet held here. High schools from Delaware, Mayes, Ottawa, Nowata, Rogers, Wagoner, and Craig counties, were invited. The college puts on this meet.
- May 1—"Mordecai" Ackley comes to government class on time.
- May 4—Mister Wright calls on Miss Thatcher.
- May 16—Leo Smithpeter takes care of another stiff.
- May 25—Semester exams begin. Hello! they're gone.
- May 28—Boo! Hoo! We hate to leave (???) Oliveoil!!!

This is the first class of College Geometry that has even been taught in N. E. O. J. C. Many Junior Colleges do not teach this subject, but it is a very valuable course for pupils who intend to teach high school mathematics.

Another unusual feature of this class is that Prof. C. S. Whitney, the instructor, assisted in the publication of the text used.

This order stands for clean sportsmanship and, as a body, is strictly opposed to unreasonable sources of school spirit.

“Whah is You Been” ?

The following little story illustrates very nicely the extremely human tendencies under which the majority of us labor—

“Rastus” was very small and very black, and Rastus liked to ride. One day, in some miraculous manner he found himself owner of a fifty-cent piece. In the neighborhood was a merry-go-round which Rastus had often watched longingly, so just as soon as he had secured the fifty-cent piece he proceeded there immediately. His mother watched him ride until his money was all gone. When he returned she remarked as follows—

“Honey, yuh sho’ is had a good time, ain’t yuh? Yuh is been ridin’ all mawnin’, yuh is spent yo’ fo’ bits, but—WHAH IS YUH BEEN?”

Figuratively speaking, we are all spending a lot of money and time riding “merry-go-rounds,” and each day when we try to find out how far we have gone we find that we have landed perhaps six feet farther back than we started. LET’S QUIT IT! Let’s start a bank account and after a while, if we keep faithfully at it,

WE CAN OWN A MERRY-GO-ROUND OF OUR OWN!

When it comes to a question of the best place to begin, the place will be easily found. We are right in the heart of the business district.

Collegit!

MURRY ALLEN 1926

The weather: Friday generally fair, probably followed by Saturday.

Prof. Whitney: "Harry, what do we mean when we say a whole is greater than any of its parts?"

Speck: "A restaurant doughnut."

She was a woman who always told everybody her business. So she told the haberdasher this: "My husband has been ill—very ill indeed so I have to do the shopping—I want a nice shirt."

"Certainly madam," said the assistant, "Stiff front and cuffs."

"No," she exclaimed, "the doctor says he must avoid anything with starch in it."

The height of absent mindedness is the college professor who upon leaving a funeral announced that he had enjoyed the afternoon.

Education may be free, but not for the man who is learning to play poker.

It is rumored that the sage-brush has become more extinct in this section of the country.

Madeline Myers: "Did you know I am a bookkeeper?"

Sophia: "No."

Madeline: "Yes, I'm librarian."

It was reported that Compost Smith shined his shoes one day. The report, however, was not official.

An absent minded young man walked into his place of employment, said "Good morning" to the clock and punched the boss.

A man can't be a College Professor unless he has some class.

Wade Zumwalt, "Big Butler and Yegg" man from Vinita says, "So's your male parent."

Bo: "How'd you lose your teeth?"

Zo: "Shifting gears on a lolypop."

Gerald Whitney is quite a musical prodigy. It is said that at the age of two years he played on the linoleum.

A little voice: "Who broke the door?"

The Multitudes: "I D A H O."

Etiquette in Eden: "Really Adam, you should dress for dinner."

"I suppose, poor fellow, it was poverty that brought you to this prison cell."

"On the contrary, brother, I was just coining money."

"Get Hot!" ejaculates ice house Ackley.

Not all College students wear their trousers over their shoes. Only the boys do.

Harpist: "And your millions mean nothing to me."

Bass Horn: "B L A H."

Raymond Miller: "Papa, give me a nickel."

Mr. Miller: "What for?"

Raymond Miller: "Just for instance."

Mr. Miller: "Be gone for school my son 'ere you'll arouse my wrath, and Mr. Floyd will paddle you for being tardy."

Chicken banquets are formal affairs with some college students. Jack Nagel reports that full dress suits are selling like hot cakes. "These finnickly college kids," says Nagel, "have to have things just so-so."

It is rumored that Idaho came to school with his hair parted straight one day. "Poo!" says Idaho.

Modern Red Riding Hood: "Say Mr. Wolf, you can't fool me, you don't look like grandma."

Mister Wolf: "Now dear kiss me and let's make up."

Modern Red Riding Hood: "Say you big boob, take that! that! and that! (Exit Little Red Riding Hood after wringing wolf's neck and tossing him into the gutter.)"

Cannibal, coming into camp: "Am I too late for dinner?"

Chief Cannibal: "Yes, everybody's eaten."

Lowly Servant: "Sir, a young lady is without."

Earl of Sussex: "Without what, slave."

Lowly Servant: "Without food or clothing."

Earl: "Feed her and bring her in."

Frye's Landlady: "Isn't this a good chicken?"

Frye: "It may have been morally, but physically it's a wreck."

"College training," says Purcell, "teaches one not to kiss or spit but to osculate or expectorate."

"CHOMICAL ADVICE"

By HOO

The water should be in before
You add the H₂SO₄;

Ninety-eight

Or else strange things might happen you—
You may not even leave a clue.
Don't monkey much with hydroflu—
It is a foolish thing to do;
If common sense you can't abide
You might as well take cyanide.

I choke and sputter when I see
The nasty fumes of SO₃;
But I'd go with it in the gloaming,
Before I'd take a whiff of bromine
If with this life you feel you're through—
Just drink some HgCl₂;
Of all sure methods, true and tried,
There's none like mercuric chloride.

A chemist always is, I'm told,
A girlish sort of man;
For if he bluffs, you will agree,
He is a charlatan (Charlotte Anne)
While if perchance he has the goods,
A type, we'll say, that's wiser;
And really does the things he says—
He's then an analyser (Anna Liza).

The most depraved female of all,
Is surely Ethyl Alcohol,
Yet even worse is sister Methyl,
For one debauch with her is lethal,
When dark despair o'erwhelms you, then
Seek sweet relief in KCN;
It's surer far you will agree,
Than lead, or As₂O₃.

Mr. Whitney: "Glenna, do you know how to play golf?"

Glenna H.: "No, Mr. Whitney, I don't even know how to hold a caddy."

When the college football team played Coffeyville they thought it was Christmas because they gave the "Java Town" boys a tie.

Here's a good joke: Eva Kerr studies her "Geology" every day.

"Poo!—," expostulates Mr. Williams.
"Sandmire, you know you haven't put in over two hours on this lesson."

8. How many Dick's Packard can carry?
9. How Jack Simpson keeps his "school-boy complexion?"
10. The secret of Y. W.'s Thursday attendance?
11. Where Mary Weddington and Oletha Barnard learned to carry three plates at once?
12. If Forrest Miller is an L. D. B.?

Miss McLaughlin (in history)—"What were some of the medicines prescribed in the middle ages?"

Wade Zumwalt—"Crushed worms were prescribed."

Turner (sleepily)—"Is that what was meant by the 'Diet of Worms?'"

Mr. Steed—"I say, Williams, you're good at telling a chap's nationality—what is a man who was born in Ireland of Scottish parents, brought up in England and died in Wales?"

Mr. Williams—"Scottish, of course."

Mr. Steed—"Wrong, he is a corpse."

“ONE OF LIFE’S IRONIES”

One of the most touching little stories that came into our hearing during the first semester concerns the theft and brutal disposal of a student’s most prized personal adornment.

It had trembled upon the brink of maturity for such a few weeks when Junior College awoke to the fact that the owner had been duped and deprived of his dearest possession. The entire student body pined together in tendering sympathy to the bereaved one as the loss was noticeable to all. So much of a school’s dignity can be increased by such a small object.

The insidious thing about it was that the culprits were supposed to be friends and the duped one little dreamed of the coming disaster when he answered a call to aid some fellow “scholars” in reaching the paternal domicile safely. The details are too heart-rending to repeat and must be forgotten. (IF POSSIBLE.)

Attempts were made at restoration—all of the best hair tonics were given a trial. However, all have ceased and it is probable that the middle section of that student’s physiognomy will remain unadorned forever. It seems that nothing gives quite the same thrill as the first “MUSTACHE.”

It is being rumored that Leota Redhage is learning the Charleston and uses Mr. Floyd’s office to practice in. Miss Redhage is to be congratulated upon her artistic ability.

ANNUAL EVENTS OF N. E. O. J. C.

The first annual event that the college holds each year is the “mixer,” to which all of the matriculates and faculty members are invited. The purpose of this entertainment is to bring about a closer acquaintance between the old and new students, and also between the students and faculty.

The Opossum hunt is a very popular recreation with the junior college people. At least one big Opossum hunt is staged by the students each fall.

To advertise the college, every spring, the Men’s and Girl’s Glee Clubs and the Orchestra, entertain at the various high schools of the district. About ten schools were visited this year.

The annual Track Meet and Fine Arts Contest, for northeastern Oklahoma high schools was sponsored by the college this year. The proceeds derived from it were used to help publish this book.

“Rat Day” is a decidedly annual affair with the Freshmen. It is their day of celebration and carefreeness. The day is always finished with a picnic at some distant spot.

Tennis has always been a popular sport with the J. C. students. Every spring a tennis tournament is held between the college players and also students from other schools.

About the middle of the second semester, a reception is given for the members of the senior classes and the faculties of the high schools of this county and district, this year’s event being the first.

It is expected that a golf tournament will be held each spring. The new golf course is just being completed and will be ranked among the finest of the state.

The school year is always concluded with a big all-day picnic. The entire student body and faculty generally turns out with well filled baskets and spend the day on some stream.

The Viking – the NEO A&M College Yearbook

Digital copies of The Viking, Northeastern Oklahoma A&M College's annual yearbook, are available in .pdf format on the NEO website for non-commercial purposes only. Scans were created using the best available editions; where stains, color-fading, and contributed marks (usually signatures) were visible on the original they also appear in the digital copy. The edge of some pages in oversized editions may be partially lost due to width limitations on the scanning bed. NEO yearbook editions that do not appear on the website are not part of the collection at present. If you would like to donate a yearbook, please contact the NEO Library.
