EDUCATION INVOLVES . . .

. . . ADMINISTRATION

Dr. Bruce G. Carter
President

Northeastern Oklahoma A. & M. College

BRUCE G. CARTER, PRESIDENT
Miami, Oklahoma

Northeastern Oklahoma A&M College at Miami has now written a history of fifty years of service. In 1919 the State Legislature of Oklahoma created provisions for the establishment of the college at Miami. The college has grown until it is Oklahoma's largest junior college, with an enrollment of some 2400 students and with some 1200 of these living on the campus.

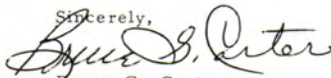

Through the cooperation of the City of Miami with the Northeastern Oklahoma A&M College, Oklahoma had its first Urban Renewal Program. This allowed for the moving of 108 houses and gave an additional thirty acres of land to the college, on which is now located the Library-Administration Building, the Fine Arts Center, and most of the housing for the campus.

During this Fiftieth Anniversary year of the founding of the college, we will dedicate eight new buildings which have been completed within the last three years.

Northeastern A&M College has one of the best all-around academic programs that can be found at any college located in mid-America. Agriculture and Home Economics have been stressed throughout the years at this college. We are known for having the outstanding Vocational-Technical program anywhere in the State and in the area.

We would like to give students a warm welcome to attend this friendly, democratic college. Northeastern Oklahoma A&M College is small enough to give the student personal attention, yet large enough to have a wide variety of curricular offerings.

If you are genuinely interested in securing an education, you can get a good start at Northeastern Oklahoma A&M College.

Sincerely,

Bruce G. Carter
President

. . . PROGRESS

Shipley Hall

Shipley Hall, constructed in 1920, was the first building erected on the campus. Until the Library-Administration Building was completed, Shipley Hall served as an administrative center as well as a classroom center. Now Shipley Hall has undergone a complete face-lifting and will serve primarily as a classroom building, housing the English Department, the Social Studies Division, the Journalism and Public Relations Department, the Mathematics Department, and the Dean of Men. The building is the only completely carpeted classroom building on the campus.

Renovation of Shipley Hall was inclusive of all facilities.

Final touches are being made in the renovation of Shipley Hall.

. . . CLASSES

Copen Hall

Beginning and advanced typing are two of the professional training areas provided by the business department.

The Home Economics Department provides practical experience opportunity for those students enrolled.

Students learn shorthand from personal contact with the instructor and through use of modern taping devices.

Copen Hall was completed in 1958 and was designed for instruction in business, home economics and music. The wing of the building housing the music department is equipped with individual practice rooms and a spacious band rehearsal room, as well as offices for the music faculty. The remainder of the first floor is allocated to the business division. The second floor is devoted to an ultra-modern home economics school. Included in this are five fully equipped pastel kitchens, a well-provided sewing room, and a combination dining room-lounge.

The Music Department offers the student not only vocal instruction but instrumental as well.

Cunningham Hall was completed in 1951 and was especially designed to give every modern facility to science and agricultural laboratories. The little theatre, seating 200, is provided with visual education equipment and is ideal for speech projects and small assembly groups. It is located at the west entrance of the classroom building.

The Biological and Earth Sciences Division provides laboratory experience in each area of study.

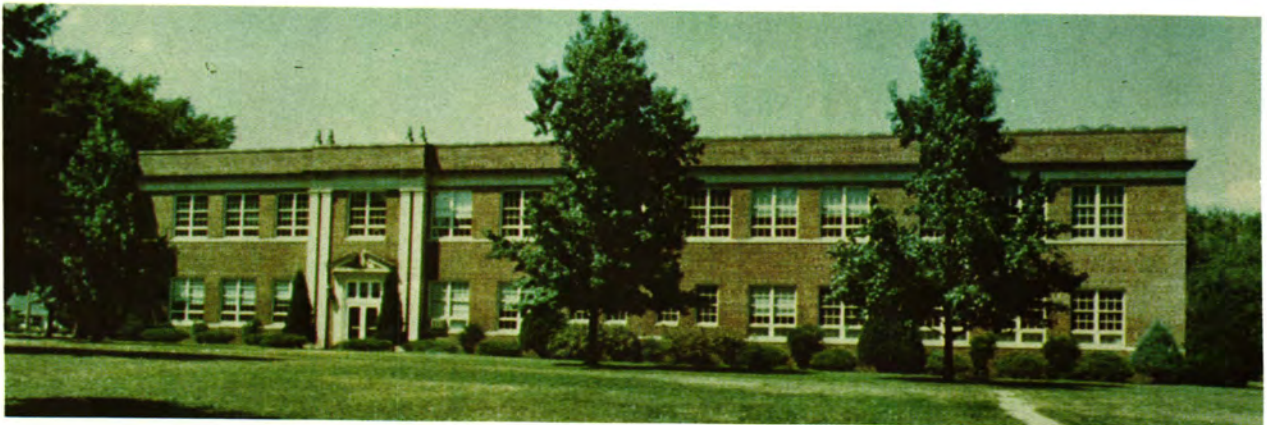

Students apply mathematical techniques learned through the various math courses when working with physics or chemistry laboratory experiments.

Chemistry students not only study the fundamentals but also apply these fundamentals in laboratory exercises.

Livestock judging is a premium field for agriculture majors. Constant practice has enabled the students to win innumerable national championships.

Cunningham Hall

. . . CLASSES

Adequate study facilities and reference materials are provided students in the new ultra-modern library.

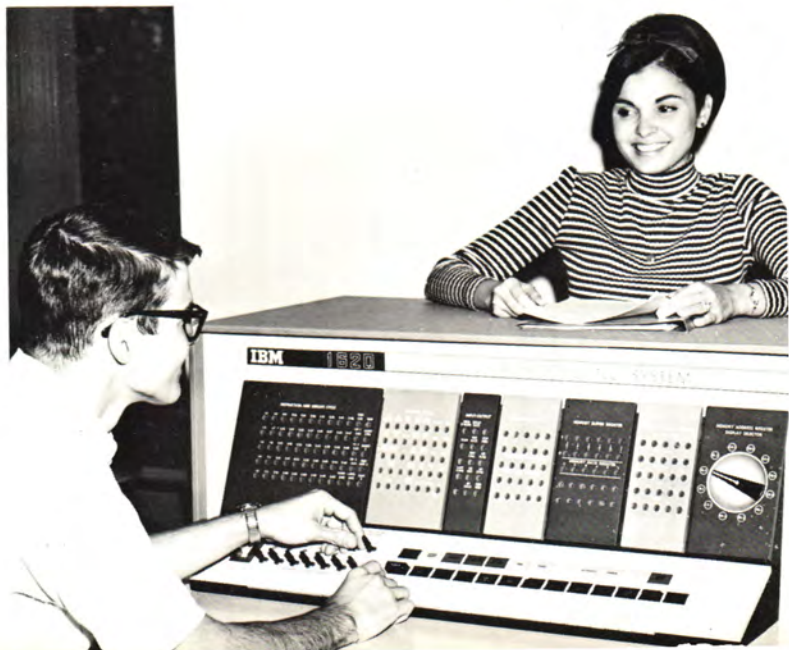

An outstanding feature of the new library is the listening center which enables students to listen to recordings in individual booths.

The data processing department is provided computer service by being linked to a master computer center.

The Library-Administration Building is the center of administrative activity and contains one of the finest libraries found in a junior college. This complex is an attractive landmark on the campus.

Experience gained through use of data processing equipment gives a student the opportunity to attain a good position in this field.

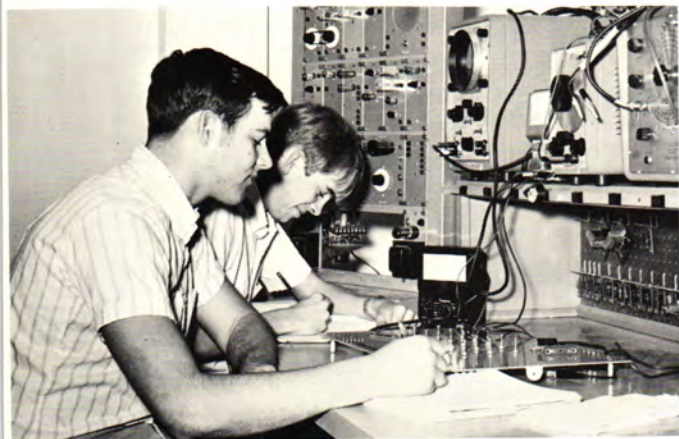

Practical Nursing involves realistic experiences as well as classroom study.

Ables Hall

Electronics ranges from basic concepts to more advanced practices. These concepts and practices are developed through the use of modern laboratory techniques.

Drafting and design is a field where industry is placing great demands. Students in this area work with the latest equipment to prepare them adequately.

Auto technology is growing in popularity with many students, and the spacious area for this program makes an attractive field of study.

The Vocational-Technical Division is housed in Ables Hall, a modernly designed building. This building houses new laboratories and classrooms for electronics, drafting and design, nurses' training, air-conditioning, auto-mechanics, welding, and other technologies and is completely environmental controlled.

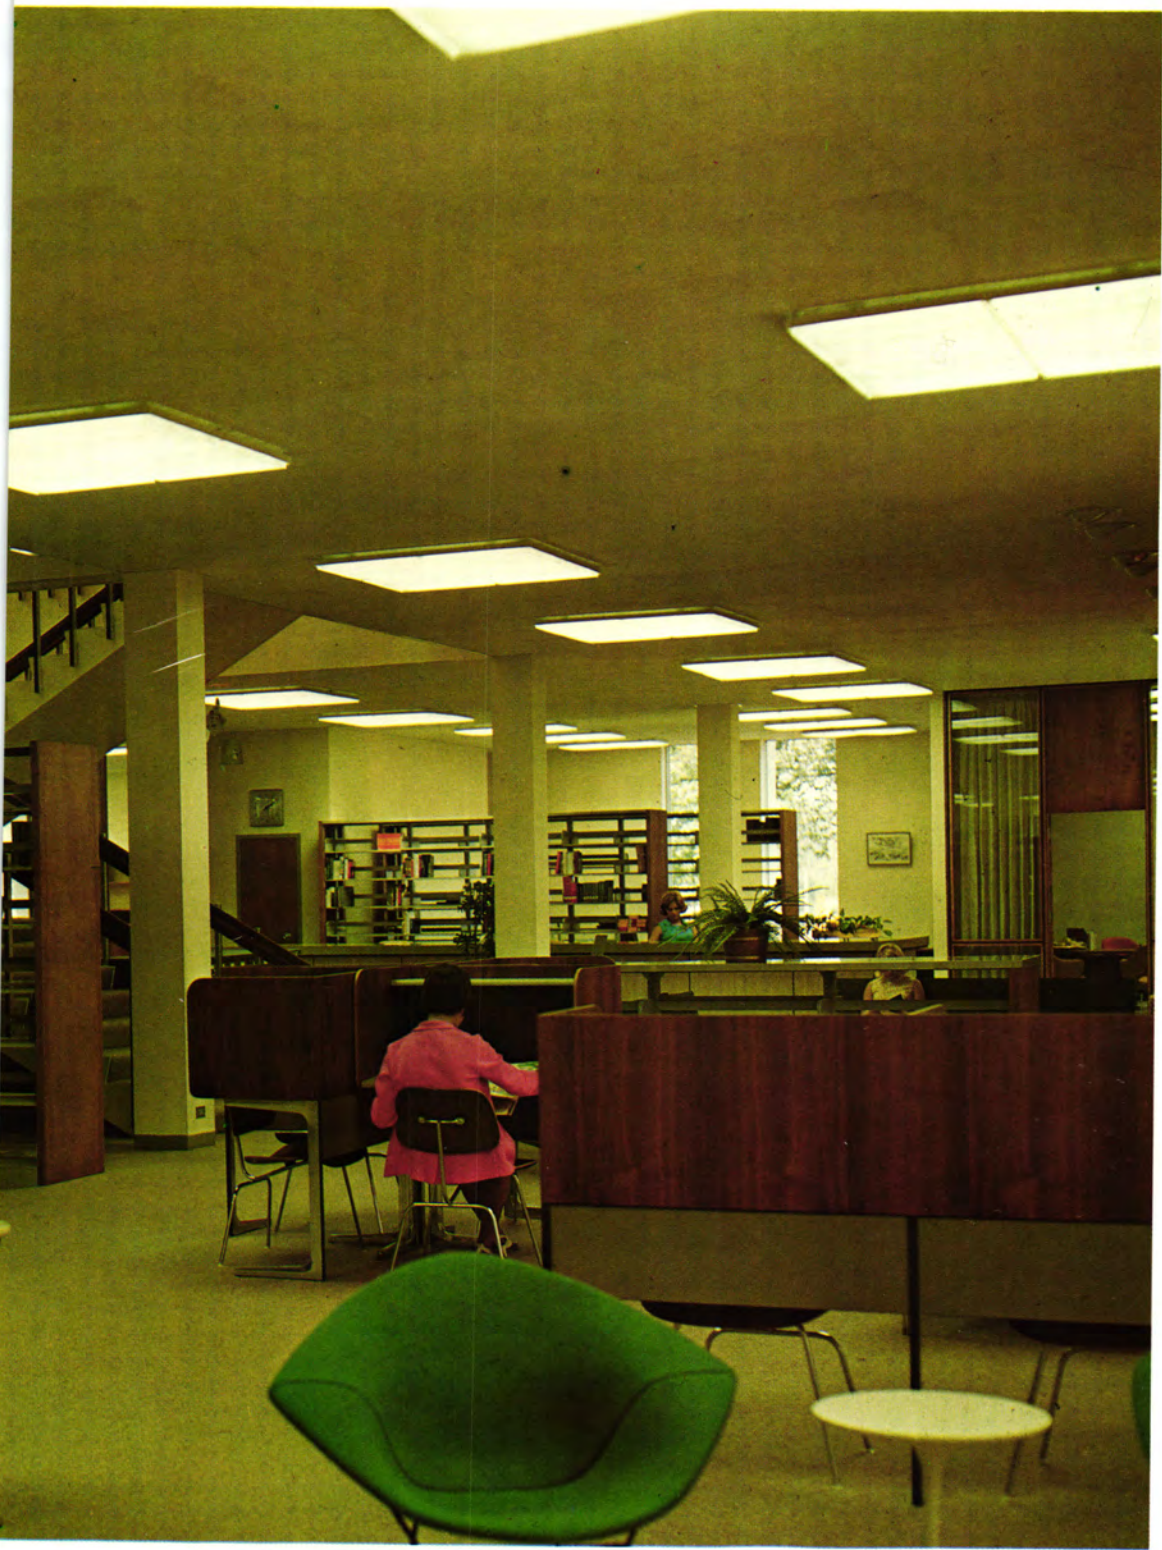

. . . LIBRARY

The Northeastern Oklahoma A & M College library is located in the north wing of the Library-Administration building. The building became part of the campus in March, 1967. At the present time approximately 25,000 volumes are shelved in the library, while the maximum capacity is approximately 44,000 volumes. Four hundred students can be accommodated, with carrel-type seating for one hundred students. Quiet study areas, conference rooms for group study, and a typing room are included.

In addition to basic volumes, micro-films, tapes, and recordings complete available study materials. Students have access to the resources of the library 59 hours a week under the guidance of professional librarians and student assistants. The open shelf plan enables the student to become aware of the many books available to increase his knowledge in a special field, as well as books which contribute to his culture.

Orientation of the students to the library is a planned program, and trained librarians add in making the library useful to the students.

. . . CLASSES

Health and Physical Education Center

Constructed in 1968, the Health and Physical Education Center includes ultramodern facilities for men's and women's equipment, and tumbling equipment. Also, it serves as the center for all varsity basketball activities.

Dressing facilities and a practice room are located in the Health and Physical Education Center for the Norse Stars.

A weights training program is included as a course to satisfy the physical education requirements for male students.

The interior of the Health and Physical Education Center is spacious and allows multiple activities.

College students have the privilege of regular hours for supervised swimming.

Fine Arts Center

The Art Department, designed to enhance art education, is housed on the second floor.

All speech classes are taught in special classrooms in the Center.

The Fine Arts Center, completed in 1968, serves as the focal point for dramatic productions, art work, and speech and humanities classes. This newly constructed Center has a theater with approximately 1000 seating capacity. This theater will be used for local dramatic productions and as a center for co-curricular activities for the student body. The classrooms and offices encircle the theater.

The spacious theater in the Center enables the student to become involved in various cultural experiences.

. . . ACTIVITIES

Bruce G. Carter Student Union

The game room is popular with both male and female students.

The Bruce G. Carter Student Union was opened February 22, 1960. The snack bar in the union is a most popular place for students and faculty members. The cafeteria is under the direction of Mr. J. J. Tatum, as is all the food service. The game room and the book store are all in the union for the convenience of the student.

Visiting with fellow students between classes is a popular activity in the union.

The Annual Student Senate Christmas Party inspired 1200 college students to adopt 450 youngsters for an evening of festivity.

Oklahoma is an excellent example of the dramatic productions to be presented in the Fine Arts Center.

Odin is the symbol of Norse spirit.

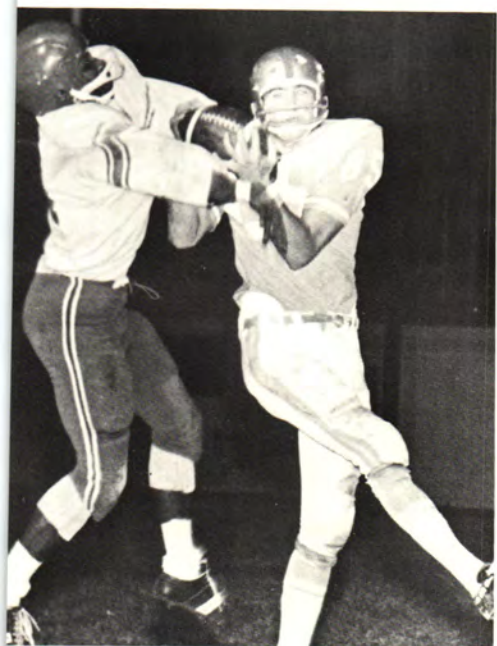

Norse basketball is now focused on campus in the Health-Physical Education Center.

The Norse Stars are the pride of NEO and perform locally and nationally.

Homecoming activities attract thousands of alumni.

Norse football is the envy of all junior colleges.

. . . DORM LIFE

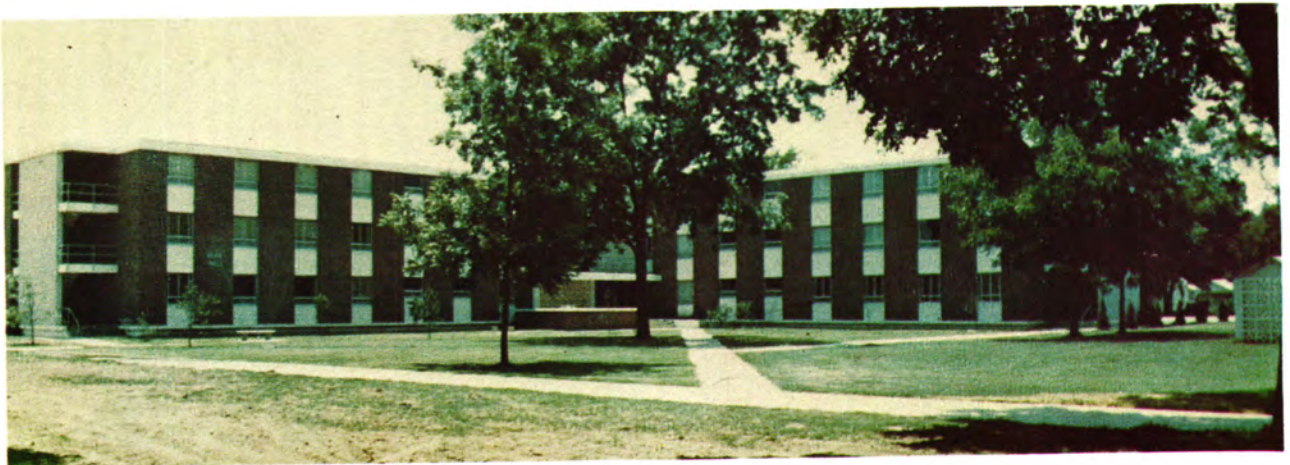

Dyer Hall

Dobson Hall is the center of a girl's life while living on the campus.

A typical boy's residence is the one shown in Russell Hall.

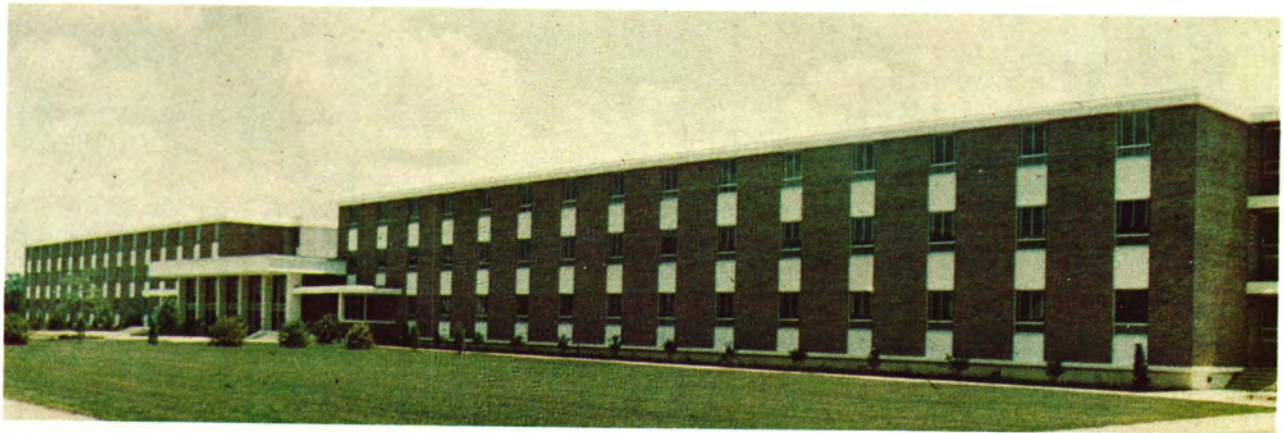

Vann Hall

Each dormitory has a check center used to aid for the location of students and for check-out procedures.

Harrill-Dobson Halls have a common lounge for use by the student.

Harrill-Dobson Halls

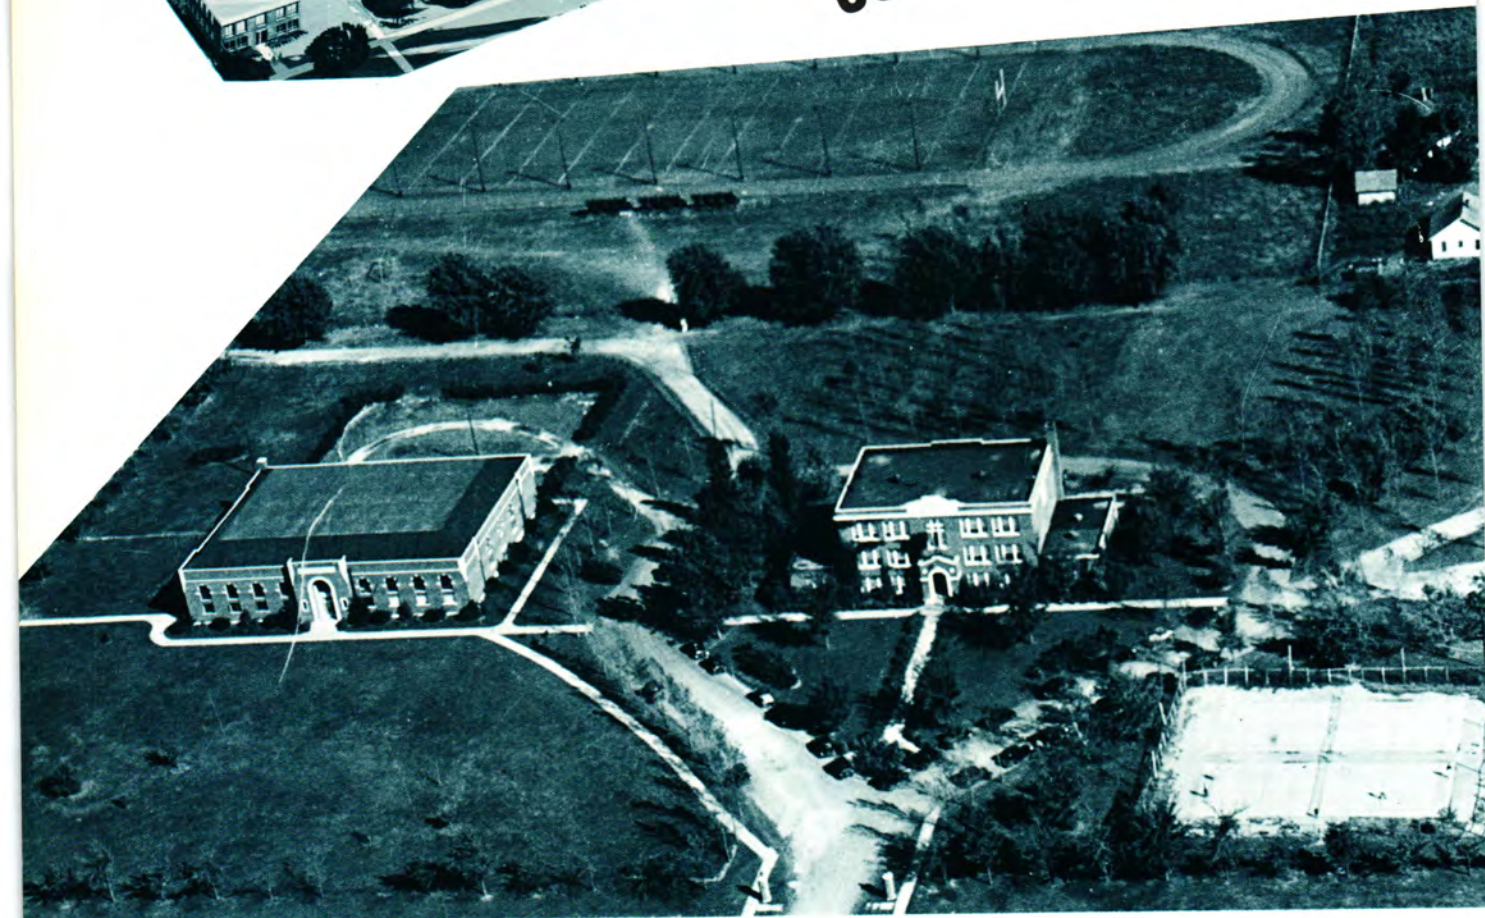

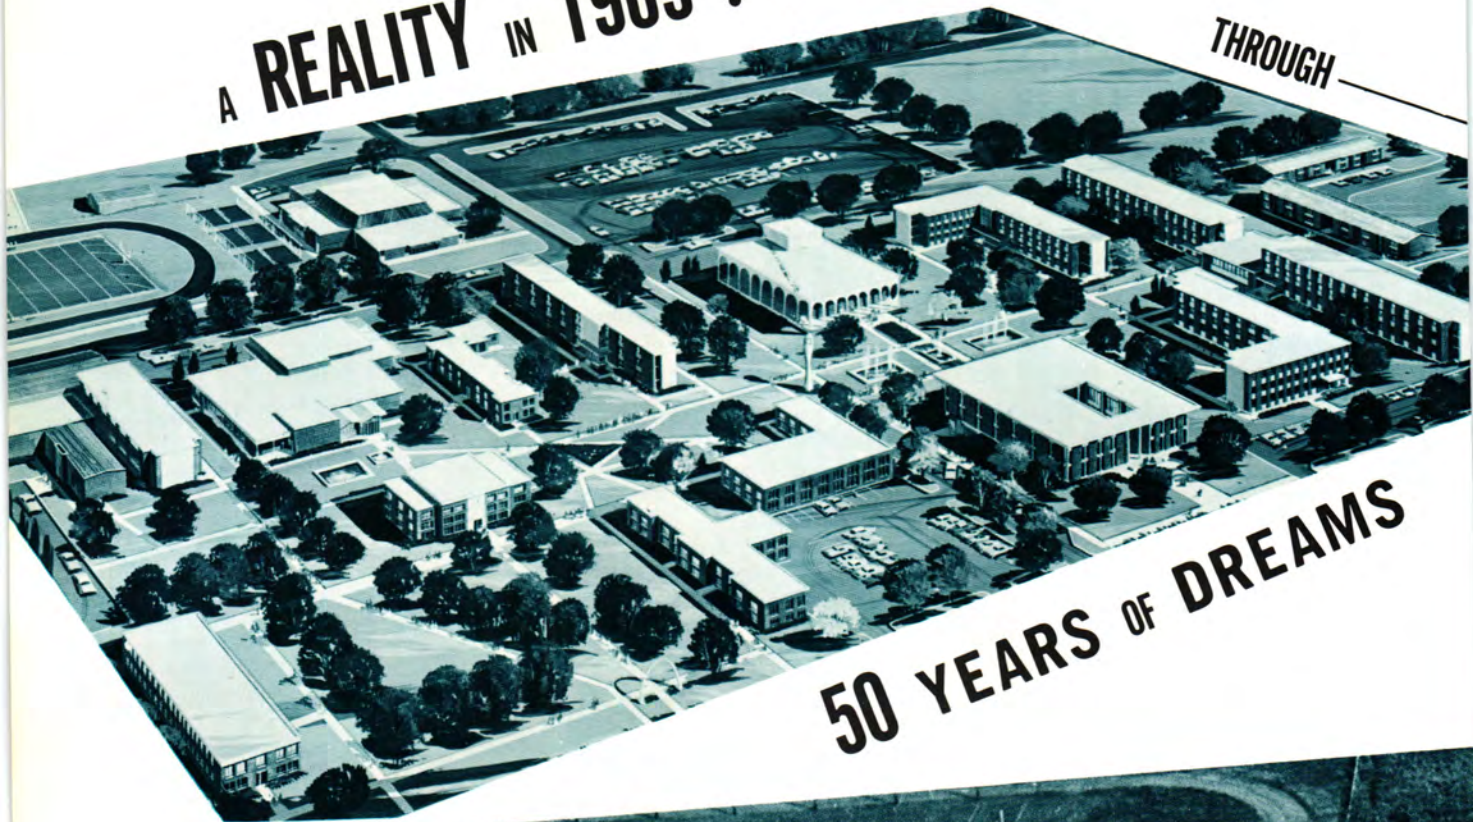

Relaxation, as well as study, is common in all dorm lounges.

Harrill-Dobson Halls are the latest dormitory additions to the campus, being constructed in 1967. The residences are entirely new in design. Harrill Hall houses approximately 200 men and Dobson Hall the same number of women. The two halls are joined by a spacious common lounge, the lower level of which is a snack bar.

ADMINISTRATION— FACULTY

Northeastern Oklahoma A&M was created in 1919 when Governor Robertson signed into law a legislative act that created the Miami School of Mines. This college served under a special Board of Regents and held the first classes in the Mining and Exchange Building of Miami. In 1920 the college moved to the present site of forty acres of land given by interested citizens of Miami.

PRESIDENT

Dr. Bruce G. Cater
President

Dr. and Mrs. Carter stroll across the campus with Governor Dewey Bartlett.

A highlight in 1969 for Dr. Carter was the dedication of nine new buildings.

Working with student planning is an important function in college development.

Speaking is an asset Dr. Carter uses to develop a fine junior college.

Hosting seventy-five high schools in the largest basketball tournament in the world also involves hosting Queens.

ACADEMIC DEAN

Dr. Ferree chats with Governor Dewey Bartlett as they go to dedication services.

Dr. Cecil C. Ferree
Academic Dean

Dr. and Mrs. Ferree visit at the annual Town and Gown Banquet.

Mrs. Dorthea Miller, secretary to the Dean, checks a parking violation with a student worker.

REGISTRAR

DEDICATION

Mr. Jack Rucker

Mr. Rucker worked long and hard to make the yearbook a big success.

Besides his other duties, Mr. Rucker manages to keep all his papers graded.

The students and faculty, past and present, join together in dedicating this 1969 issue of "The Viking" to Mr. Jack Rucker. Northeastern A&M has never known a harder worker, a better teacher, nor a more dedicated individual to the college than Mr. Rucker.

Mr. Rucker came to the college fifteen years ago, fresh out of the University of Oklahoma, sporting a Phi Beta Kappa Key and had the air of one who knew where he was going! He was soon appointed as head of the English Department, and has built this into one of the strong departments of the college.

He served as Track Coach for nine years and during this time won six state titles and four regional championships. He served for five years as director of girls' basketball at the college, and his teams ranked high, at all times.

During the first year the Faculty Senate was organized, his fellow teachers elected Mr. Rucker as the first president of the group.

Mr. Rucker has been actively in charge of this college publication, "The Viking", for some thirteen years and has promoted and presented outstanding publications, year after year.

He is, at the present time, Director of Region II of the National Junior College Athletic Association.

Mr. Rucker is a tireless worker and source of joy and inspiration to students and faculty alike. We are happy to honor him by dedicating this splendid publication to his honor and memory.

SOPHOMORES

A special session of the legislature in 1925 changed the name of the college from the School of Mines to Northeastern Oklahoma Junior College and general collegiate courses were added to the curriculum.

SOPHOMORE OFFICERS, Front row: Linda
Turner, Secretary. Second row: Carol Baker, Stu-

Members of the Speech and Drama Department take a break after completion of a set for "Oklahoma."

Mrs. Kathryn Paige and her students pose with art work to be displayed in the college library.

Cold weather and a beautiful fountain create strange works of art.

Building a float for homecoming involves hours of work, much of which is detailed, as these two college students will testify.

ROYALTY

In 1939 the control of the college changed from the Special Board of Regents and was transferred to the Board of Regents for state colleges, with the six state colleges of Oklahoma, where it remained until 1943, when, by an act of the legislature, the name of the college was changed to Northeastern Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical College; and it became affiliated with the Regents for Oklahoma State University and other A&M Colleges. A 200 acre farm was purchased and equipped, agricultural courses were added, and a division of technology was added.

ORGANIZATIONS

Two types of curricula are offered. The basic curriculum contains the typical freshman and sophomore courses for students who wish to complete four years of college work either in general education or pre-professional training. This course enables any student to enter a four-year college or university as a junior. The terminal program enables the student who desires a two-year college course to secure a cultural and vocational education best suited to his needs. The chosen course may lead to the Associate in Arts Degree.

NEO A&M College Archive Collection

The Viking – the NEO A&M College Yearbook

Digital copies of The Viking, Northeastern Oklahoma A&M College's annual yearbook, are available in .pdf format on the NEO website for non-commercial purposes only. Scans were created using the best available editions; where stains, color-fading, and contributed marks (usually signatures) were visible on the original they also appear in the digital copy. The edge of some pages in oversized editions may be partially lost due to width limitations on the scanning bed. NEO yearbook editions that do not appear on the website are not part of the collection at present. If you would like to donate a yearbook, please contact the NEO Library.
