Opening Set Peek Wins For Drama Scholarship

Opening night for "The Miracle Worker" is scheduled for Oct. 17. The drama, which will be NEO's first production of the season, will be presented in the college auditorium through Oct. 20 with curtain time at 7:45 p.m.

Director David Froman, college humanities and speech instructor, announced that all seats will be reserved. Students may obtain tickets by presenting their ID's in room 204 of Shipley Hall.

Costumes for the production are being prepared by Linda McKinzie, Tulsa sophomore, and Kris Mansell, Miami sophomore. Froman designed and executed the sets.

The story of Helen Keller's childhood and the woman who taught her to tolerate her blindness. "The Miracle Worker" will feature Lucinda Malocsay, Miami sophomore, as Helen Keller and Lynna Jackson, Stroud freshman, as Annie Sullivan. Other cast members include Doyle Burrus, Bluejacket sophomore; Kathy Pryor, Miami freshman; Dan Aruthof, Miami sophomore; Patty Benson, Bartlesville freshman; Garry Charter, Barnsdall sophomore; Margie McIntosh, Bartlesville sophomore; Larry Clark, Vinita sophomore; Sylvia Lewis, Tulsa sophomore; and Russell Latham, Drumright freshman.

Portraying Helen Keller as a little girl will be Meredith Malocsay, Lucinda's sister, while two young friends will be played by Paula and Marsha White, Bob White's daughters. White is a speech instructor at NEO.

Joe Peek, Northeastern A&M freshman, has been named the recipient of the $500 Science Scholars Award, according to Waymon C. Gibson, chairman of the biological and earth sciences division.

The scholarship, which is presented each year by an anonymous Miami citizen, was awarded to Peek on the basis of past academic records, American College Testing scores, and a short essay in which he expressed his ambitions and philosophy of life.

A 1967 graduate of Miami High school and a math major, Peek stated his future plans include receiving his associate degree at Northeastern A&M, and then continuing his education at Oklahoma State University, Stillwater. "At the present time, I'm not definitely sure what I want to do when I graduate from college, but I possibly will teach college mathematics," he said.

The judging committee who selected Peek consists of Gibson, Dr. Bruce G. Carter, college president, Dr. Cecil Ferree, dean of instruction; Charles Angle, dean of student activities; S. A. (Red) Robertson, dean of men; and Mrs. Elizabeth Hutts, college registrar. Peek is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Peek, 901 B Northeast.

Curt Sheriff, Winterset, Iowa freshman, was recently named Interstate Boy of the Year. In recognition of his outstanding achievement in the field of 4-H record work, Sheriff will receive a $100 United States Savings Bond.

Joe Peek, Miami freshman, receives the Science Scholars Award from Waymon C. Gibson, head of NEO biological and earth sciences department, as Dr. Bruce G. Carter, college president, looks on.

Home Ec Club Scholarship To Ada Meet Recipients Attend Here

NEO's home economics chapter will be among 15 colleges participating in the Leadership Training Conference at East Central State College, Ada, tomorrow.

The day's activities include a skit by Derinda Garrett, president and Phyllis Nuckolls, state junior college representative, portraying the highlights of the national convention held in Dallas last summer.

Each college will also be judged according to originality and creativity on their scrapbook and name tags. Nuckolls will serve as chairman of the committee.

The theme for this year's activities is "Focus on Interaction."

Northeastern A&M College has six of the 100 national winners of scholarships given by Ford Motor Company's Technical Scholarship Program, according to Dr. Bruce G. Carter, college president.

Returning scholars'ip recipients include Roy Gannaway, Lubbock, Texas; Jim Hansen, Harlan, Iowa; Phil Williams, Mariow; and Larry Winkle, Marionville, Mo., while Don Smith, Marshall, Ark.; and Mike Stevens, Snyder, Tex., are attending the college for the first time.

Scholarship winners are selected on the basis of their high school records, citizenship, and leadership abilities and must indicate an intention of earning the associate degree in automotive technology.

The recipients have their tuition paid and receive a stipend for room and board, which amounts to $300 per year in the case of a student living at home or $750 for those living at the college.

In addition, a supplementary contribution of $250 per year per student is given to the college to be used toward its general education budget.

All six winners indicated that their future employment plans involved Ford Motor Company. Each one's father is connected with the Ford Agency in his area.

Their course work at the college will include auto mechanics, technical mathematics, welding, English, machine shop, government, engineering drawing and American history, along with physical education and certain electives.

Don Dyer

NEO Mourns Dyer's Death

Northeastern A&M mourns the loss of Don Dyer, college housing director, who died Sunday in St. John's hospital, Joplin, Mo., where he had been a patient for three weeks. He had undergone surgery there last December.

Dyer who had directed the housing program at the college for 22 years was 61 years old.

"The administration, faculty, and staff—and I'm sure the student body—have lost a friend and the services of a very fine and generous man," Dr. Ferree, dean of instruction, said. "All of us have profited through our experiences with Mr. Dyer and as a result the entire population of the college has profited from him."

He is survived by his wife Marian, director of Carter Student Union and a son, Don, Norman. Funeral services were held Tuesday at the First Baptist Church.

Vandals Slow NEO Progress

Campus beautification has been in progress at Northeastern A&M for several years and will be completed in the next two years. Land expansion, additional buildings, and the renovation of older constructions have all been a part of the project. Visible evidence of progress illuminates the campus, but there exist two pronounced detractors.

The most conspicuous detractor is the vandalism of the buildings. Breaking windows, writing graffiti on walls, and the destruction of desks and chairs may inflame the ego, but does it prove or accomplish anything. Do the broken windows prove how strong you are? Glass may be broken by a toddler. Does writing graffiti qualify you as an artist? Simple-minded adolescents can scribble on a wall with a crayola. Does the destruction of desks and chairs instill a sense of power within you? A child must feel powerful when he smashes a toy.

Vandalism, however, is relatively unimportant compared to the other detractor — the perpetrators of the deeds. What type of individual commits vandalism? Confused and distorted. How does he relate to school spirit and pride? He doesn't. Can anyone who destroys NEO property care anything about the future of the college? Definitely not.

Who are the perpetrators? You—the students of NEO. Whether in actual deed or not you are responsible. When you don't condemn it, you are condoning it. Your pride in NEO has evidently slipped, so why should the college, the taxpayer, and the government exhaust vast sums of money on the beautification of the campus when you don't care?

Beautification is for the benefit of the students, but the students must contribute something themselves. You must contribute the spirit and the pride—without it the beautification project will only be superficial and temporary—with it the project will have depth and be passed to each succeeding class.

If you care anything at all for the college you will realize that a beautification of the student pride and spirit must take place before any outward signs of progress will mean anything. You will do your part by not condoning any type of vandalism.

Blood Drive Rucker Lists On Campus Viking Staff Next Friday

One week from yesterday, Oct. 12, Northeastern A&M students will be asked to participate in one of the campus' most worthwhile drives. Each fall and spring term the Ottawa County Bloodmobile visits the NEO campus requesting students to donate blood, and each time they receive the typical NEO response — students donate more than one-third of all the blood received in the county.

Co-sponsored by Odins Knights and the Student Senate, the bloodmobile will be held from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the college bandroom.

As in previous visits the sponsors will award traveling trophy to the class that donates the most blood percentage wise.

Permission slips will be distributed in the class rooms in order that the students may obtain their parents' permission to donate to the bloodmobile.

Rucker Lists Viking Staff

Northeastern A&M's Viking staff for the coming year will be headed by Janice Rice, Grove sophomore.

Jack Rucker, faculty advisor, named associate editors Lou Ann Micka, Miami sophomore, and Kathy Johnson, Miami freshman, to assist the new editor.

David Anderson, Chelsea freshman, is one of 60 young people in Oklahoma to receive a scholarship from the Oklahoma Farmers Union. Anderson's $200 scholarship was awarded on the basis of his scholarship, citizenship, and work in the Farmers Union youth program.

CHEROKEE INDIAN PRINCESS Carol Chopper

Jay Freshman Reigns As Cherokee Princess

How does it feel to be kissed by Dale Robertson? If you are really interested there are two ways to find out. First, you could find Dale Robertson and get some first hand information; however, this is a very impractical idea. The alternative (and far more sensible and possible) would be to ask someone whom Robertson has kissed. This, NEO students, you may do by questioning Carol Chopper, Jay freshman.

Carol received her kiss from Robertson when she was crowned Cherokee Indian Princess at Tahlequah in September. Aside from crowning Carol as princess the ceremony included the opening of a $500,000 industrial site owned by the Cherokee Nation.

Carol, who was one of nine high school seniors and college freshmen who entered the contest, will travel throughout the country as an official representative of the Cherokee Nation. Princess Carol was selected on the basis of an essay she wrote concerning her future plans. Currently a business major, she plans to change to a sociology major and eventually become a social worker. "I always wanted to be a social worker but thought if I had one year of business I'd have something to fall back on."

As Cherokee Indian Princess, Carol, who is one-half Cherokee received a complete set of Samsonite luggage, and when she is a junior will receive a $200 scholarship to Tahlequah.

BLOSSOMS IN THE FIELD

Today there are blossoms in the field
Today there is fruit upon the vine
Today there are children running 'round
Tomorrow? What tomorrow —
Will there be blossoms,
Or fruit
Or children running round?
They say there is a bomb
They say, it is a good thing to have this bomb around
But is it?
When today there are blossoms and fruit and children running 'round.
And tomorrow —
There are lonely stems,
And naked vines
And nobody — nobody — running 'round.

Mike McGee

Lippert Heads New Officers

Dr. Robert Swanson, Northeastern A&M instrumental music director, announced that Mark Lippert, Grove, has been elected president of the Norse band. Other officers chosen to assist Lippert are Shirley Craig, Claremore, vice-president; Cynthia Bottoms, Del City, secretary-treasurer; Rick Williston, Wyandotte, Student Senate Representative; and Steve Conster, Bartlesville, alternate Senate representative.

Dennis Jackson catches a pass from Doug Mathews to move the Golden Norsemen down to the 3-yard line of the Tulsa Gales. Al Consuegra carried the ball on the next play to tally another touchdown for the Norse.

Norsemen Romp Over Raiders, 14-0

The NEO Golden Norsemen rolled to their fourth straight victory last Saturday night as they spoiled the Grand Rapids homecoming before 1,000 fans by defeating the Raiders 14-0.

Ram Gonzales sparked a 99½ yard TD drive by plowing up the middle for the final six yards as the Norse marched down the field in 15 plays led by quarterback Doug Mathews. Wayne Cathey used his talented toe to add the extra point as the score read 7-0 with 7:16 left in the second quarter.

The Vikings scored their final touchdown with one minute left in the half on a 12-yard toss from quarterback Bubba Dudley to end Dennis Jackson. Wayne Cathey again put the ball through the uprights to make the score 14-0.

In the final two quarters, both teams marched up and down the field but neither team could sustain a scoring drive. The Norse defense contained the Raiders throughout the contest while permitting them only seven first downs.

Norse Travel To Trinidad

Returning home from a 1,400 mile jaunt to Grand Rapids, Mich., The Golden Norsemen will again board their viking ship and sail to the land of the Trojan's of Trinidad, Colo., tomorrow night.

The Norsemen planted a severe thrashing on the Trojans at home last year by thumping them 32-13 on Oct. 8. The Trojans were ranked number nine in the nation upon arrival in Miami last season but their single-wing offense sputtered under the constant pressure applied by the Norse defense.

Although the Norse mounted three long drives during the first three periods NEO led by only 21-13 going into the final quarter. Richard Sanchez sparked the Norse victory with gallops of 13 and 44 yards for two TD's. Quarter back Harold Peacock hit Danny Mills for a seven yard scoring pass, and Larry Dudley hit end Al Simmons with a 30-yard scoring bomb.

Norsemen Conquer TU Frosh Gales

Sparked by the brilliant running of tailback Al Consuegra and the tough defensive plays of Bart Graves, the Golden Norsemen planted a 38-0 defeat on the freshman Gales of Tulsa University before some 1,500 fans in Skelly Stadium on Sept. 22.

The Norse scored their first TD with 3:51 left in the first period as Graves shot through Gales line and fell on QB Jay Monaghan's fumble in the end zone. The touchdown came one play after the Norse lost the ball on fourth-down at the half-yard line. Wayne Cathey added the extra point to make the score 7-0. The only other scoring done in the first half was from the "Golden Toe" of Cathey as he booted a 30-yard field goal with 8:16 left before intermission. Both teams were held scoreless in the third quarter.

Regaining the form that made him the top ground gainer of last year, tailback Consuegra smashed across the goal line from the three-yard line with Cathey adding the extra-point to make the score 17-0 with 12:17 left in the final period. Norseman John Pell's theft of a Gales pass set up this scoring drive which was capped by Consuegra's jaunt.

Taking the ball on their own 25-yard line, the Norsemen marched 73-yards for six points on fine running by Consuegra and Skip Henneha before end Don Gramling took Doug Mathews pass and rambled seven yards for the tally. Cathey then added another extra point to boost the score to 24-0 with 5:58 remaining in the contest.

With 2:41 remaining in the final period, Consuegra plunged over from the three-yard line for a TD to make the score 30-0. Cathey added the extra point to boost the score 31-0. A robbery by back Bo Alligrod set up the final Norse TD as they marched 45-yards with the TD coming on a 32-yard pass play from freshman QB Randy Crow to sophomore end Larry Lane. Again Cathey appeared and sent the ball sailing over the goal posts to make the final score 38-0.

NEO Boxing Team Begins Fall Workouts

Fall training and workouts have begun for the NEO boxing team. The workouts are set on a daily schedule with rigorous training periods throughout the week.

"The team will be competing throughout Northeastern Oklahoma and the members are already showing great form and style for the coming season", stated Andy Kem team leader. One of the biggest events which the team will participate in will be the Miami Golden Gloves to be held later in the year. The team will also battle at Joplin and Eufaula.

Outstanding running by tailback Al Consuegra has moved him into the scoring leadership in the conference with 24 total points on four touchdown runs. Quarterback Doug Mathews has sparked on offense by leading the team to victory with the run-pass option play. End Dennis Jackson has caught three TD passes for 18 points and Wayne Cathey is running a close second to Consuegra with 21 points on three field goals and 12 conversions.

Vikings Stay Unbeaten In Four Games

The Golden Norsemen extended its winning streak to four while increasing their chances of obtaining a bid to this year's Junior Rose Bowl at Savannah Georgia by blanking Grand Rapids, Mich., 14-0.

The Norsemen are in a conference with Cameron Junior College of Lawton and Oklahoma Military Academy of Claremore. The Vikings defeated the OMA Cadets in their season opener by the score of 30-0. The Norse then downed Kilgore, Texas, in their opener, 32-13. Traveling to Tulsa the Norse shut-out the TU Freshmen, 38-0. Coach Bowman's team has outscored its opponents 114-13 in four games.

Ronnie Lowe is successful in breaking up a Tulsa Gales' play but also caused the Golden Norsemen to receive a penalty for interfering with the ball carrier.
