Homecoming Preparation Will Culminate Tomorrow

Each year for days, the pulse of campus life quickens, and the normally fast pace of activities increases. Various clubs and organizations begin the inevitable process of meetings, elections, fund-raising, and construction work.

Endless rounds of drill and practice must be met. Football squad, Band, Norse Stars, and ROTC units, all must strive for perfection. Finally, these hours and weeks of preparation, planning and work reach their climax in that very special day known as homecoming.

This year, the 20th of October promises to be a very busy and rewarding homecoming for the students and former students of Northeastern Oklahoma A&M.

RECEPTION TO BE HELD FOR ALUMNI

A reception will be held throughout the day in the Bruce G. Carter Student Union, for all returning alumni. The Student Union building will also serve as a focal point for many of the other activities during the course of the day. A noon luncheon at the VFW will honor the members of the "O" Club, who are Northeastern A&M lettermen of former years. The student union will also serve as headquarters for the judging of the homecoming queen candidates.

Any club on campus may, upon payment of a fifty dollar fee, enter a candidate for homecoming queen. This year 12 girls will represent their club or organization in the competition for the honor of being named queen of the homecoming activities.

The panel of judges who will choose this year's queen, are all out-of-town graduates of Northeastern A&M.

QUEEN CANDIDATES MEET JUDGES AT 10 A.M.

The procedure for choosing a queen will begin at 10 o'clock in the morning. First the queen dressed in formal attire, will meet with the judges in the student union from 10 a.m. until noon. Then, the contestants will change to sportswear and have lunch with the judges in the student union. During the entire morning the candidates will be observed and judged on beauty, poise, naturalness, conversation and dress.

After lunch, the judges will retire to decide upon the girl who will reign as Northeastern A&M queen. Their decision will not be announced, however, until the actual half-time crowning ceremonies during the game.

This year there are twelve girls. They, along with their club and float title, are: Dixie McKenzie, McCune Kan., "The Constitution," Aggie Club; Sherry George, Afton, "Rendezvous in Space," Air Force R.O.T.C.; Robin Cantrell, Miami, "Moments of Tomorrow," Business Club.

Diane Pace, Osawatomie, "The Invention of the Wheel," Engineers Club; Judy Billingsley, Tulsa, "The Wright Brothers," freshman class; Sue Rampey, Broken Arrow, "Telstar," ITS; Chan Bradshaw, Fairland, "The Founding of the United Nations," International Club; Jane Grant, Wyandotte, "Tip the Canoe and Tyler too," Language Club; Betty Hale, Miami, "Liberty and Learning," Phi Theta Kappa.

June Johnson, Miami, "The Raising of the Flag on Iwo Jima," Press Club; Sandra Sweeten, Miami, "The Turn of the Century," Pre-Med Club; Sandra Stockton, Strang, "Washington Crossing the Potomac," sophomore class.

Those clubs who have not yet selected a queen but have a float are: Commons Hall and the Girls' Dorm, "Norsemen Return Home," Dyer Hall, "The Trojan Horse," and the Home Economics Club, "Betsy Ross, Making the Flag."

Floats will be judged on uniformity, originality, appropriateness to the theme, audience appeal and completeness of construction. First, second, and third place prizes will be awarded.

Last year's first place float was "Ebb Tide" designed by the ITS. It consisted of a series of ocean waves, with a large one forming a background for their queen.

PARADE TO BEGIN AT 4 P.M.

Four o'clock in the afternoon will mark a second major event in the day's activities, the annual homecoming parade. Floats from many of the clubs on campus will be in competition for top honors, while various bands and the entire AFROTC Cadet Corps will make up the marching units of the parade.

Mr. Need is the homecoming parade chairman for this year, and Mr. Swanson is in charge of securing bands to march in the parade. The same panel of Judges who select the queen, will also judge the various float entries in the parade.

Following the parade, there will be an alumni dinner held in the Bruce G. Carter Student Union at 5:30. Mr. Dick James is chairman of the alumni association.

GAME TO BEGIN AT 7:30

At 7:30 the evening's activities continue as the undefeated N.E. O. Golden Norsemen meet Tyler Texas on Robertson Field.

During half-time the homecoming queen will be crowned in a spectacular ceremony. In charge of this ceremony will be, Virginia Lee Wilson, Bruce Owen, Mr. Hazleton, and Mr. Swanson.

When the homecoming football game is over, a full day of activities will be completed by two dances on campus.

A dance will be held in the gymnasium for all of the alumni. At the same time, a semi-formal student mixer has been scheduled in the student union.

Oh H---! What a Week

Today is the last day of Hell Week, an annual affair at Northeastern Okla. A&M.

The campus is blooming with girls in dressy dresses and heels; The boys are wearing white shirts and ties, with either a suit or sports coat. Both sexes agree that they are being stared at as much today as any other part of the week. Girls smiled a little sweeter when the young boy sitting next to them in English class suddenly became a well dressed young man. Boys couldn't resist a whistle at the pretty young woman in a chic knit suit.

Earlier this week, however, Hell Week lived up to its name. All freshmen clothes were worn backwards, with shoes of two different colors. One girl reported that she had to borrow a shoe from her roommate who wore a size three. At the end of the day hot water had to be used to remove it from her size six foot.

Tuesday the freshmen were given a break from the usual tricks. It is reported that the sophomore class conceded this only upon Dr. Carter's insistence.

Wednesday the girls wore short skirts with ribbons in their hair and on the front of their blouses. Boys wore the same type of dress, bermudas, small bow ties, and suspenders.

Thursday, in the tug of war the freshmen won the right to remove their beanies.

Connie Smith Is Feature Twirler

Connie Smith, a Tulsa Freshman was chosen feature twirler for NEO's Norse Band. She is the first girl to hold this position in eight years. Connie will march not only at football games but at every other event in which the band participates.

Connie was a majorette at Edison High School. In 1959 she won the title of Miss Majorette of America as well as receiving many state and local awards.

In addition to being a feature twirler, Connie is a dietician major, works in the cafeteria, and is a member of the Norse Stars.

Editorial

Tonight lights will burn late in back windows up and down main. All over town students will be putting the finishing touches on their floats. Small clubs will curse their fate because they don't have more members. The atmosphere is tense with expectancy.

In other parts of town alumni will be arriving by car, by bus, and by plane. For them too the atmosphere is tense with expectancy, the expectancy of seeing old classmates, or a son kicking the winning touchdown.

But the collegian and the old guard now have one thing in common, Northeastern Okla. A&M will be uppermost in their minds. Suddenly, both will become acutely aware that we have a fine team representing an equally fine school. Students who always go home to support their high school team will be seen in Robertson Field Saturday night.

Alumni, perhaps for the first time, will realize the important part education has played in their lives. As memories of their own two years at NEO flood their minds, can they help but become more aware of the importance of education to their children and grandchildren?

This is the magic of Homecoming and this is tragic! Why should it take a holiday atmosphere to make us appreciate the importance of education, a fine school, or a fine team.

One need only compare NEO with nearby junior colleges to appreciate what we have. Many are housed in old high school buildings. There is no campus, no Life Science Building, no Fine Arts Building, and no dormitories. Students must rent rooms in private homes or live at the Y.

We have a faculty as interested in each student as they are capable of teaching their classes. Some graduated with the Kappa Key, others have nearly a hundred college hours of training in their particular field. Still others are noted for their work with clubs and other groups on campus.

This is not the magic of Homecoming. This is the product of hard work, and worthy of appreciation any time of year.

Students Donate 116 Pints of Blood

One hundred sixteen pints of blood were donated to the Blood Mobile during the last week in September, according to Darrell Watts, Student Body President.

The Sophomores gave 71 pints and the Freshmen gave 45 pints.

Each person who donated blood was given a ticket for a drawing in which a sweater was given to the winning boy and girl. Sue Linn and Jim Harding were the winners of the sweaters.

Watts said that the co-operation was good, but it was much better last year in that 196 pints of blood were donated.

The Blood Mobile will return to the campus late in the winter. The Student Council is hoping that the students will co-operate more enthusiastically then, than they did in September.

A good practical pen for everyone.

Everybody likes the LINDY.

It writes nice.

Lots of students buy two or three at a time.

Maybe because it's only 39¢.

Maybe because there are twelve brilliant ink colors.

Or maybe they just like to have two or three or twelve around.

Also nice to have around:

"Skin Of Our Teeth" Set For November 14

"The tentative date of presenting Thornton Wilder's play 'The Skin of Our Teeth' is Nov. 14," said Bruce Owen, drama instructor.

The leading rolls will be played by Tulsans, Gwen Taylor, Bob Bethell, and Jeanne Burger. Gwen plays the part of Sabina, a pretty girl. Bethell and Miss Burger portray Mr. and Mrs. Antrebus, solid citizens of the town.

The part of a dinosaur is played by Kay Snyder, Miami. The part of the fortune teller is portrayed by Pat Melody, also of Miami. Sarah Tatum, Tulsa, plays the part of a mammoth.

Other characters in the play are Richard Kelton, Miami; Bill Latsch, Bartlesville; Donna Whitwell, Miami; Don Jennings, Tulsa; George Cook, Tulsa; Sandra Wojahn, Fairland; Kenna Embree, Nowata; Charles Seat and Bob Fain, Miami.

Linda Madden, Judy Russell, Jerry Tanner, David Underwood, Phil Graham, Paul Holmes, Roy Pichardo, and Pat Smith are also in the cast.

Artist Presents Film and Lecture

The Northeastern A&M Department presented a lecture by the noted artist, Ernest Van Harlingen on Oct. 3.

Van Harlingen is a fellow of the Royal British Society of Arts, president of the Northern California Art Association, and was the Director of the Crocker Art Gallery in his hometown of Sacramento, Calif.

The lecture which included colored slides of contemporary artists at work was interspersed with commentary by Van Harlingen.

Mrs. Kathryn Paige, head of the Art Department, said that time would not permit the students to get full benefit of the lecture with a question and answer period.

Classes To Be Dismissed Fri.

School will be dismissed Friday, October 26, so that teachers may attend the annual state-wide meeting of the Oklahoma Education Association.

Dr. Bruce Carter, president of Northeastern A&M will serve as the president of the junior college division. The meeting will be at the Huckins Hotel in Oklahoma City at 10:00, Friday.

The Northeastern A&M College Chorus will sing at the OEA meeting. Sixty five voices under the direction of Kenneth Richards and with the assistance of Bruce Owen, will entertain.

Wesley Foundation Busy Little World

"The Wesley Foundation Student Center is a busy little world of activity," says the Foundation president Jim Tuttle, a sophomore from Des Moines, Iowa. The vice-president is John Fowlie, New York; secretary is Carolyn Aldredge from Miami, and treasurer is Janice Havens, a freshman from Vinita.

There is a snack supper and evening program at the Wesley Foundation every Sunday evening at 5:30. The Thursday evening meeting is a fireside service with recreation, singing, and discussion.

Weight Lifting to Keep Students Fit

Students of Dyer Hall will begin a Weight-Lifting Club to insure regular physical exercise.

The actual working-out of the weights will be done in the recreation room of the Hall. All of the equipment is being furnished by the residents.

The actual program hasn't started yet, but a schedule will be posted, telling when and where the lifting of weights will be allowed.

A committee was set up to keep an instructor on duty at all times, make out exercise programs, schedules, and keep a record of the members living in Dyer Hall who pay $1.00 which enables them to become a member of the Weight-Lifting Club.

Committee members are: president, Howard Glen, Tulsa; vice-president, Bill Plotts, Bloomington, N. J.; secretary, Chuck Branaca, Tulsa; treasurer, John Liddle, Passaic, N. J.; Sgt. at arms, Buddy Willis, Tulsa.

"O" Club Will Honor Alumni

An open house and luncheon for alumni "O" club members will be held Oct. 20 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the VFW Hall. It was announced today by Jack Rusher, secretary and treasurer.

Carol Armstrong, Tulsa, wears the basic shirtwaist dress so popular on campus this year. She finds this style easy to wear and easy to care for. Carol is a freshman business major.

Home Ec. Has Fashion Show

Approximately eighty people attended the Simplicity Style Show, presented by the Home Economics Department, Oct. 2.

Simplicity Patterns furnished the garments which the home economics students modeled. The garments were all high fashion ideas for fall and winter which can be easily made by following the pattern instructions.

Neutral colors were dominant. Beige and all shades of gray woven together made a most attractive plaid coat, which was modeled by Dee Wallace of Miami. She also wore a double knit sheath dress of heather gray to match the full length coat, with leather accessories. This was just one of the lovely costumes which was displayed.

Models were: Connie Smith and Gale Eberle, of Tulsa; Linda Wallace, Lenapah; Glenda Quinton, Locust Grove; Sandra Wojahn, Fairland; Cheryl Martin, Vinita; Margaret Herrington, Commerce; Mrs. Carl Miller, Bluejacket. From Miami: Mrs. Everette Ganes, Mrs. Charles Mouser, Mrs. George Lewis, Mrs. Earl Burum, and Donna Patterson.

Apaches Rated As Tough Rival For Norsemen

The Golden Norsemen of Northeastern Oklahoma A & M will have double work cut out for them tomorrow night when they will go against the rough and tough Tyler Apaches, in their annual homecoming classic, at Robertson Field.

This will be without a doubt the roughest game to date for the undefeated Norse. Tyler, although they have lost three games to date will be all fired up to try and hand the Golden Norse their first defeat. The rival battle of the two teams, when they clash, is always a fight down to the final gun.

Coming into the seventh game, between the two rivals, the Texans have a slight margin over NEO, winning three while losing one and tying two.

The Norse will be defending a near perfect record of 5-0-1 and will be very difficult to stop.

At the first of the season Tyler was ranked number one in the Nation but have dropped considerably since then. Coffeyville has taken over that rank at the present time.

According to coach "Red" Robertson the Norse will be in good condition and in good shape for this tough contest. All-American Eugene Burleson and the great passing offense will be expected to be shining as always, to say the least about the defensive "berserks" and their perfect scoreless record.

Let's all go out and see the Rambling Golden Norsemen rack up another big "V" in this seasonal classic, homecoming. Game time is 7:30, we'll see you there.

GO, GO, NEO

SCALP APACHES

Norse Defense Baffles Wichita

One of the best defenses Northeastern A&M has ever had handed the Wichita Freshmen their first defeat of the season, Friday night, 20 to 0. The fine "berserks" have yet to have an offensive team to cross their goal-line.

The great Norse team has had 22 points scored against them and all were scored against the punting team or offensive squad. Taking nothing away from the offense who have average 29 points a game including the 7-7 deadlock at Texarkana.

In Friday nights action, scoring first for NEO was fullback Jim Little who plunged 2-yards in the first quarter. Kicking expert Foy McClung converted for the one-pointer.

Scoring in the second stanza, injured QB Eugene Burleson passed to end Jim Derwin on a play covering 28-yards. McClung's kick failed.

Halfback George Kevern climaxed a 53-yard drive, with a 7-yard end sweep. McClung converted making the final score 20 to 0.

Two TD's were called back against the Norse. A 46-yard scamper by halfback Barry Peck and a 40-yard pass from McClung to end John Watson. Both of these nullifications came in the fourth period.

SUPPORT THE GOLDEN NORSEMEN!

Former NEO Student Leads Yanks To Pennant

Ralph Terry, former Northeastern A&M student, pitched a four hitter Tuesday against the San Francisco Giants to lead the New York Yankees to their 20th pennant.

Pitching a brilliant game, Terry retired the first 17 batters, and later gave up four hits.

This season was the first series game that Terry had won. In 1960, he pitched the final game between the Yanks and the Pittsburgh Pirates and threw the home run to bill Mazerowski that cost them the game.

Definitely, the young man from Chelsea, tossed one of the greatest world series in history.

Terry, who attended NEO the first semester of 53, 54, 55, was an above average student and majoring in Arts and Sciences. Besides being a star right hander for Northeastern, he also was a crack shot on the basketball court.

One of the more popular students on campus, Ralph hitchhiked to the Junior Rose Bowl at California to watch the Golden Norsemen in action.

Born and raised at Chelsea, Ralph was coached by Rupert Cross, and pitched the Chelsea team to the state finals.
