STUDENT PUBLICATION OF

NORTHEASTERN OKLAHOMA AAM

VOLUME 24

MIAMI, OKLAHOMA — FRIDAY

SEPTEMBER 23, 1967

NO. 1

Staff Members Increase By 13

Dr. Bruce G. Carter, Northeastern AAM president, has announced the employment of 13 new faculty members for the 1967 fall term. Joining NEO's prize winning agriculture department is L. N. Burcham, a graduate of Northeastern AAM in 1961 and Oklahoma State University in 1963. A former NEO livestock judge, Burcham previously worked as a livestock buyer for the Oscar Meyer Company.

New public relations director and head of the journalism department is Kenneth L. Collins. Collins, who is an alumnus of NEO, has taught social studies and journalism at Miami high school for the past two years where he was president of the Miami Classroom Teachers Association. Originally from Afton, he received his BA from Northeastern State College at Tahlequah and is in the process of completing his Master's program.

Computer science and electronic technology (IBM) instructor is James R. Grover, a former Lenapah resident. Grover attended NEO before going to OSU where he received his Bachelor's degree in technical education this past year.

Most recently employed (two weeks ago) as an NEO instructor is Mrs. Rogena Harrison. Mrs. Harrison, who obtained both her Bachelor's and Master's degree from Ball State University, Muncie, Ind., teaches speech and English. A cum laude graduate, Mrs. Harrison has taught in various high schools in Indiana.

In the vocal music department Jim Hawkins, a native of Jackboro, Tex., is assisting Kenneth Richards. Hawkins was a soloist with the Bison Glee Club at Oklahoma Baptist University, Shawnee, where he was a cum laude graduate. He has been minister of music at Baptist churches in Sulphur and Cushing.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill H. Hill join Mr. and Mrs. Waymon Gibson as the second husband-wife combination. Hill, who is an IBM instructor, and his wife Anna Vee, who teaches secretarial science subjects in the manpower program, attended Eastern AAM at Wilburton before receiving Bachelor degrees from OSU. Hill also has a master's degree from OSU.

A 1964 graduate of the University of Arkansas with a BS in education, Gary Howard teaches psychology and is the new assistant football coach. Howard, who was an assistant football coach at the University of Arkansas, comes to NEO from Del City where he has been assistant coach for two years. He recently received his Master's degree from Central State College at Edmond.

J. E. Lowry leaves the Miami public school system to teach mathematics at NEO. An Alumnus of Northeastern AAM before

Cast Chosen For Drama

Northeastern AAM's drama department will present its first production of the 1967 season, "The Miracle Worker," Oct. 17-20 in the college auditorium.

"The Miracle Worker" is the story of Helen Keller's childhood and the woman who taught her to tolerate her blindness. In the motion picture based on the play Anne Bancroft won the coveted Oscar for best actress as Annie Sullivan and Patty Duke won the best supporting actress award for her interpretation of Helen Keller.

NEO students who would like to submit letters to the editor or creative articles for publication in THE NORSE WIND are encouraged to do so. These articles may be turned in to the NORSE WIND office, Shipley Hall, room 106. Writers must sign their names in order that they be accepted for publication.

Student Senate Plans Activities

Each semester Northeastern AAM students have been represented by a conscientious Student Senate of their own choice—and the exception to that rule is not to be found during the 1967 fall term. With only three weeks of their tenure expired, NEO's Student Senate has outlined a semester of activities which holds interest for each and every student.

For the movie enthusiast a feature-length motion picture will be presented on alternate Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. in the Little Theatre. Admission for each of the scheduled films will be the presentation of the student's ID card. Motion pictures planned for the first semester are:

- Sept. 27 "The Hustler" (Paul Newman, Jackie Gleason)
- Oct. 11 "Hatari"
- (John Wayne, Elsa Martinelli)
- Oct. 25 "Lolita"
- (James Mason, Sue Lyon, Shelley Winters)
- Nov. 8 "Red Line 7000" (Keir Dullea)
- Nov. 29 "Jailhouse Rock" (Elvis Presley)
- Dec. 13 "The Bellboy" (Jerry Lewis)
- Jan. 10 "Your Cheatin' Heart" (George Hamilton, Susan Oliver)

STUDENT MIXERS

The less enthusiastic celluloid viewer will discover that the Student Senate has also thought of his pleasure. Student dances, to be sponsored by various clubs and organizations, will be held each Wednesday evening in the Carter Student Union banquet room. Paul Campbell, Student Senate president, said there are still some dates available for sponsorship. Any interested club or organization should contact Campbell or any member of the Student Senate.

Leading off October will be the Ottawa county bloodmobile. "A contest between the freshmen and sophomores highlights this semester visit, with a traveling trophy being awarded to the class which donates (on a percentage basis) the most blood," Campbell stated.

Parents' Day, scheduled for Oct. 21, is to include not only an open house atmosphere throughout the campus but also a demonstration pep rally. Dr. Bruce G. Carter, president of NEO, plans to give a reception for the parents, at which time he will also show slides of the college following its growth through the years.

This year will mark a departure from the traditional Homecoming and Parents' Day combination. Homecoming has been designated as the Saturday following Parents' Day. On Oct. 28 the Golden Norsemen will be opposed by NEO's arch rival Cameron. Immediately following the homecoming game, and every home game, will be a victory dance.

RELIGIOUS EMPHASIS

NEO's Student Senate, which will join the Oklahoma Junior College Student Senate Association the last of October, has specified the week of Nov. 6 as Religious Emphasis Week. Campbell added. Announcement of a guest speaker will be made in the future.

In December the Student Senate plans to sponsor its annual Christmas party for underprivileged children. Details will be available in late November.

Campbell emphasized that throughout the semester the main objective of the Student Senate "will be to get full participation out of every student in religious, social, and academic activities." He also said that two weeks before finals the Senate plans to set up study weeks.

George Pennington studies the cue ball for Sheryl Fallin as they practice for the intramural activities which are being held on the NEO campus. Pennington is president of the intramural activities and Fallin serves as vice-president. Other officers are Melba Nix, secretary and Jack Brown, treasurer.

Mixer Objective Fun Or Profit?

The majority of college students have a limited source of income or an allotted allowance out of which they are expected to pay their expenses. From this money the students must buy school supplies, food, books, clothing and accessories, and entertainment.

The establishment of the college fully realizes the necessities which one must have in order to live comfortably away from home—and does its best to provide what it can at reasonable prices. NEO's Student Senate feels the pressure, personally, to give students activities which they may enjoy and yet not exhaust too much of their income or allowance. For this reason the Student Senate sponsors free come or allowance. For this reason the Student Senate sponsors free come or allowance. For this reason the Student Senate sponsors free come or allowance.

NEO students appear willing to pay admission for a dance, but they cannot afford to pay prices which are as high as the tickets one might purchase to hear a name band in concert. For this reason many students crowded the student union at the mixer last week instead of crowding the dance floor.

Student activity is, supposedly, the main purpose for having the dance. Whatever profit is accumulated should be of secondary importance. With profit being a secondary concern would it really matter if the club only "broke even"? The club would not have lost anything, and they would have given an enjoyable evening to their fellow students. And if it is the profit which dominates the sponsor's objective, which will produce more profit a few paying a large admission or multitudes paying a reasonable—and affordable—admission?

The issue could be brought before the Student Senate (which it may have been by press time), voted upon, and controlled through this means. However, are not the clubs and organizations of NEO concerned enough with the needs of the student body that reasonable prices may be applied without rule or force? Are not the interests of the students of prime importance to each campus association?

Resolution of the problem need not be channeled through the Senate—shoulder the responsibility independently—demonstrate your understanding of, and concern for, others.

Insure Leaders For Tomorrow

More than ever, this country needs trained, educated people to continue the progress America has made and to take their rightful places in the society that is developing.

An education is needed not only for many of the intangible good things in life. An education also provides dollars-and-cents advantages in terms of better jobs and higher earnings. Statistics show that from the age of twenty-five college graduates earn approximately $1,000 a year more than high school graduates. Much of the poverty and unemployment that exists today is directly related to the lack of education and preparation by previous generations.

At the present time there are approximately two million dropouts in this country. Nearly one-fourth of the students who drop out of school are unemployed. Most of the rest are stuck in dead-end jobs, without any real future.

Large gains have been made in the fight against ignorance, unemployment, and poverty during the past several years. Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz recently reported that two million more people are working and one million more are in school than the population increase of the last three years accounts for.

Many dropouts have been inspired to return to the classrooms by the Education Campaign of the past two years. In 1960 the dropout rate was 25 percent. Last year it had decreased to 18 percent. But 18 percent is still too high for a nation as wealthy as ours to tolerate.

This paper supports the efforts being made to keep students in school and help them from becoming future victims of deprivation and poverty. But more than the efforts of business and government officials we support you, the students who have cared enough about your own welfare and the future of your country to pursue your education. It is you who will receive the benefits and profit from them. In your hands the leadership of tomorrow rests. Insure that tomorrow's leaders are educated today by remaining in school.

Veterans Urged To Use GI Bill

Military veterans who are attending Northeastern A&M College should make application immediately to the Veterans Administration Regional Office, Muskogee, so they can start receiving their GI allowance benefits, according to Joe Anderson, manager of the Muskogee office.

Anderson pointed out that veterans are eligible for the GI Bill if they have served more than 180 days continuous military service, with any part of that time after Jan. 31, 1955.

Under the new Viet Nam GI Bill rates, effective Oct. 1, full-time veteran students are entitled to the following increased monthly payments: $130 without dependents; $155 with one dependent; $175 with two dependents and an extra $10 for each dependent in excess of two. Part-time students receive proportionately smaller amounts.

Anderson stated that veterans applying for the allowances should furnish the VA office with a certified copy of their marriage license, birth certificates and the discharge document, DD Form 214. The VA office will in turn send a certificate of eligibility to the student.

Upon acceptance in the program a veteran can expect to receive his allowance checks shortly at the end of each month. These checks will continue without interruption for the enrollment period certified by the college.

New Systems Aid Library

Students of Northeastern A&M may no longer claim that they do not use the library because of the long process of checking out books. Northeastern A&M librarians have now mechanized the procedure, eliminating the writing associated with it. Student ID cards, acting as credit cards, are placed in a data recorder along with a similar card prepared for the individual book. The recorder then makes an imprint of the necessary information; thus the speed and accuracy with which books may be checked out is transformed from a seemingly endless routine to a quick efficient system.

In addition to a more effective check out style the NEO library has added a listening system which will allow students to listen to recorded music. Although this was begun last spring the record complex was not completed until this fall.

Equipped with four turntables, four taped cartridges, and four listening booths the system will eventually also include 16 earphones, which may be employed outside the booths. Although most of the 185 singles and 55 albums now listed in the audio-visual card catalogue are classical music, poetry, and other literature, plans are in the making for

Classes Elect Kiem, Tyler

Andy Kiem, sophomore, and Bill Tyler, freshman, were elected presidents of their respective classes in the Northeastern A&M class elections which were held Tuesday.

Kiem drew no opposition for the sophomore post, while Tyler edged out Monty Franks for the freshman presidency.

David Froman and Bill Bennett were chosen class sponsors by the sophomores.

The freshman officers include Richard Neel, vice-president; Leif Christensen, secretary; and Jim Thompson, treasurer. Becky Moore and Cynthia Bottoms were chosen as Senators-at-large.

The freshman class chose Kenneth Collins and Ed Lowry as their faculty sponsors.

The expansion of the system will include selections of jazz, folk music, and popular music.

A tape recorder is available for instructors if they wish to record movements from several symphonies or operas in order that they might listen to them in one session.

Home Ec Club Elects Garrett Staffers Chosen For New Term

The NEO Chapter of Home Economics held its first meeting Monday night in Copen Hall. The featured speaker of the evening was Derinda Garrett, who was also elected president of the Chapter. Derinda, a Miami sophomore spoke on the subject of the National American Home Economics Association Convention in Dallas, which she attended last summer as a representative from Northeastern A&M College.

Other positions filled during the elections were Verla Stanley, Miami, vice-president; Barbara Edens, Locust Grove, secretary; Janet Jones, Lenapah, Student Senate Representative; Sue Clifford, Copan, treasurer; Nancy King, Afton, publicity; Kathy Edens, Locust Grove, social chairman; and Bonnie Synar, Faculty Advisor.

Following the election of officers a discussion was held regarding four club committees. The following girls volunteered to be the committee chairmen: Karen McKisick, Big Cabin, program committee; Nancy Trolinger, Commerce, home-ec yearbook; Lily McKinzie, Pryor, publicity for campus mixers; and Helen Clay, Miami, Homecoming float.

Preceding the discussion on committees, Sheryl Fallin spoke on the clubs policies at student mixers.

Home Ec Leaders To State Meeting

NEO Home Economics Chapter Officers will attend the state planning meeting for college Home Ec Chapters in Oklahoma City tomorrow. Those attending will be Derinda Garrett, president; Verla Stanley, vice-president; Karen McKisick, program chairman and Mrs. Harry Synar, sponsor.

Also attending will be Phyllis Nuckolls, State Junior College Representative, former NEO student now attending Northeastern State at Tahlequah.

Those attending the meeting will participate in plans and preparation for the State Leadership Conference to be held October 7.

STUDENT MIXERS inspire a variety of steps and shapes as NEOers swing on . . . and on.

Susan Weeks, Miami Sophomore, has been named editor of Northeastern A&M's student newspaper, THE NORSE WIND. Jay Reniker, Miami freshman, will serve as assistant editor. Tulsa sophomore Robbie Geiman will serve as editor of the NORSE ALUMNI NEWS.

Covering the action of the Golden Norsemen will be freshman sports editor, Monty Franks of Miami. Assisting Franks will be Bill Hurley, Del City, freshman. David Kreider, Miami sophomore, and Bob Kemper, Miami freshman, will keep THE NORSE WIND'S photographs up-to-date. Kemper will also head the business department.

OU Exhibit In Library BSU Encourages Daily Attendance

Now on display in the NEO library, courtesy of the University of Oklahoma, is a traveling exhibition of student art work. The traveling exhibition consists of prints, drawings, and paintings, some of which have received recognition during various art student exhibits.

Mrs. Kathryn Paige, college art instructor who contracted the display for the month of September, announced that a new collection would appear in the library each month. In May NEO art classes will conclude the end of the spring term with a display of their own works.

Five of the 22 student creations — Disrobing Figure and Opera Singer by John Fincher, $25 each; Allegory, Lynn Gray, $30; Still Life, Mitchell Mertes, $45; and Untitled, David Robison, $25 — maybe purchased by writing the artist in care of the Museum of Art, University of Oklahoma, Norman, Okla. 73069.

Northeastern A&M students who are concerned with meeting the "Challenge of Christianity" may do so each day by attending the Baptist Student Union.

The Union is open to all students regardless of religious preference or creed, according to Reverend Russell Moudy, director.

Each day from 12:30 to 12:55 p.m. many students gather for a devotional period, group singing, special music and listen to outstanding speakers of the area.

Also scheduled for the year is a social period which will be held immediately following the Golden Norsemen home football games.

The Baptist Student Union is located across the street at the north end of the college campus.

Wesley Extends Invitation To All

All interested students are invited to attend and participate in the Wesley Foundation, campus church organization sponsored by Miami's Methodist church.

Reverend Hugo Johnson, campus minister, announced that the student coffee house, located in the basement of the Wesley Foundation at Third and I street, would be open once a week this term. Opened last spring, the coffee house, which is operated by students, provides a meeting place for students of like Christian faith. Here and during the Wesley Foundation meetings students are invited to participate in a variety of discussions which are designed to stimulate their thinking.

Students of all denominations are welcome to attend both the meetings and the coffee house. Signs will be posted throughout the term announcing meeting dates and times.

NEO Makes Giant Strides In Campus Beautification

Northeastern A&M made a giant stride toward campus beautification this past summer with the completion of two new apartment buildings for married students, a new double dormitory and an addition to the Carter Student Union banquet ballroom.

The apartments which are air-conditioned and furnished, consist of 26 units.

Each of the new dormitories houses 180 students. They are separated by a common lounge in between.

The combination banquet-ballroom at the student union has been enlarged to three times the size of the former ballroom. It contains an electrically controlled motion picture screen and has a 14-foot ceiling.

Construction will soon get underway for the new Fine Arts Auditorium building and the new Physical Education building which will include a swimming pool. They are expected to be completed by the opening of the fall term.

Dr. Carter said construction of the buildings, at the present time, will cost about $1,750,000. The auditorium and gymnasium is expected to cost in excess of $1,800,000.

"Money has also been made available and approval has been given for the renovation of Shipley Hall, which was the former Library Administration Building and partial renovation of Cunningham Hall. The project will get underway as soon as classroom space can be provided for the relocation of classes," Dr. Carter commented.

"Every effort is going to be made to make this the most beautiful junior college campus in America," Dr. Carter stated. He refers not only to the physical plant but also to the landscape. Bob Rucker, who has landscaped the University of Oklahoma, Baylor and Texas A&M, has been commissioned to landscape NEO.

Other plans for the campus beautification project include fountains, reflective pools, a chimes-clock tower and a campus mall which will span the length of the campus. Focal point of the mall will be the bell tower to be located on the corner of what was formerly Second avenue and J street. The tower will have a clock face on each of the four sides which will ring on the hour. Combined within the tower will be a public address system and a chimes system on which it will be possible to play any tune.

Fountains will be strategically placed between Shipley hall and Carter Student Union, and between the Library-Administration building and the Fine Arts Center.

Reflective pools are to be constructed on either side of the fountain between the Library and Fine Arts Center.

The campus beautification project is expected to be completed by 1969. This will coincide with the 50th anniversary of the college.

NORSEMEN TAKE OMA, KILGORE

Halfback Skip Henneha eludes would-be Cadet tacklers as he searches for running room. Henneha helped the Norsemen down the OMA Cadets, 20-0, in the season opener for both teams.

Norse Defense Scuttles Kilgore

Northeastern A&M Golden Norsemen's spunky defense blunted the over-all offensive attack of the highly touted Kilgore Rangers as the Norsemen surprised the Rangers, 22-13, before a sell out crowd at Robertson Field last Saturday night.

The Vikings took a 2-0 lead on a safety with 9:13 left in the first quarter. Defensive back Ronnie Lowe led the Norse charge that dropped the Ranger quarterback behind his goal line, on a play which originated from the 13 yard line.

Bowman Faces Tough Schedule

"With continued improvement, our team will have a chance to win a good number of our games this year. However, with the extreme toughness of the schedule, we will have a very tough season." These were the comments given by the new head coach of the Golden Norsemen on the type of schedule which the Norsemen will face this season.

For the first time since 1945, the Golden Norsemen will take the field under the leadership of a new head coach. Coach Bowman, former linebacker with Coach Bud Wilkinson's Oklahoma Sooners, resigned last year as head coach of Tulsa McLain's Scots to become head coach and athletic director here. His 1966 Scots reached the state AAA finals, losing to Enid 36-21, in the championship game. Coach Robertson was an assistant high school coach at Shawnee and Tulsa Central before going to McLain.

Coach Bowman succeeded S. A. (Red) Robertson, who has remained on the NEO faculty but retired from coaching at the conclusion of the 1966 season due to poor health. Coach Robertson achieved one of the all-time great records in Junior College coaching history, in his 22 years at NEO.

Assisting Coach Bowman are John Tiger, Bob Maxwell, Jack Wallace, and Gary Howard, who was a defensive star at Arkansas University before he became an assistant at Del City high school.

The Norsemen marched 58 yards and scored on a 2-yard plunge by back Richard Sanchez with 1:05 left in the first period. Quarterback Doug Mathews sparked the TD drive with his elusive running. Wayne Cathey's try for extra point was wide and the Norse led 8-0. Cathey put his toe to good use as he booted a 37-yard field goal with 12:44 left in the second quarter for a 11-0 lead.

The Rangers scored their first touchdown with two minutes left in the second period on a scamper from the five yard line by tailback David Crow. The play was set up by a 19-yard pass from quarterback Skeeter to Glen Tucker.

The Norsemen struck again as end Don Gramling snared a pass from Mathews and rambled 67 yards for the score. Two minutes later Al Consuegra scored on a two-yard plunge after John Pell stole his third Ranger pass of the game. Consuegra got his second TD on a one yard plunge with three minutes remaining in the game.

Kilgore scored its final touchdown with three seconds remaining on a 15-yard pass from Skeeter to halfback Dan Dorsey.

Mathews Leads Key Norsemen Return to NEO Past OMA

Led by sophomore quarterback Doug Mathews, the Golden Norsemen rambled past the Oklahoma Military Academy Cadets by a score of 30-0 before an overflow crowd of 1,500 at Soldiers Field in Claremore, on Sept. 9.

Norse Rookies Look Excellent

Many fine freshmen footballers have donned the blue and gold of NEO this year. Listed are some of our more promising rookies of the collegiate gridiron.

Offensive starters for the Golden Norsemen are Joe Horschel, a 6-0, 200 pound center, hails from Eau Gallie, Fla., where he was offensive captain for two years. Harry (Jeff) Jefferson, 6-1, 195, guard from Robert E. Lee High in Jacksonville, Fla. Skip Henneha, All-Conference, All-Stater from Enid, weighs in at 183 pounds, and stands 5-11. Henneha has played on three consecutive state champion teams at the full-back position.

Rookie defensive starters for the Norsemen are Tom Fletcher from Circleville, Ohio, who stepped in at the linebacker position, stands 6-1 and weighs 200 pounds. Fletcher was twice selected All-Conference and was chosen All-State his senior year. Barty Chapell, 6-1, 200, tackle, was chosen All-League while at Minco High School. Ron Yankowski, a native of Picher, and a 6-5, 200, tackle for NEO, made the All-Star team of the Lucky Seven. David Slatton has made the switch from back at Sand Springs to defensive end for the Golden Norsemen. Slatton was chosen "Back of the Year" in the rugged Six Lakes Conference in 1966. He was an All-Stater and made Honorable Mention All-American for the Sandies.

The victory was more than just the first win for the Norsemen; it was also an initial test for head coach Chuck Bowman who took over the reins from veteran mentor Red Robertson.

Small in stature but large in grid ability, Mathews sparked the Norsemen with his explosive running by rushing for 175 yards, including two touchdown jaunts of 62 and 56 yards. He also had a 75-yard dash nullified by a penalty. Besides being a scrambler, Mathews also took to the air by completing 13 of 18 passes for 169 yards. One of these was a one yard job to Dennis Jackson for NEO's second TD. Jackson caught 10 passes for 100 yards including two TD receptions. Don Gramling grabbed five tosses for 97 yards for the Norsemen.

NEO rambled up and down the field throughout the game and picked up their first tally from the toe of Wayne Cathey, who kicked a 38-yard field goal and also contributed three extra points. The Norsemen led 9-0 at the end of the first quarter and 16-0 at halftime.

Key Norsemen Return to NEO

Chuck Bowman, head football coach of the Golden Norsemen welcomed back 21 returning lettermen, who are expected to be key performers this year on the Northeastern A&M gridiron.

The lettermen include: ENDS—Tom Credo, 190; Don Gramling, 185; Dennis Jackson, 185; Larry Lane, 190. TACKLES—Bill Kelley, 210; Bill Summers, 235; Garry Yancey, 227. GUARD—Wayne Cathey, 200. BACKS—Bo Allgood, 160; De Cooper, 180; Al Consuegra, 185; Doug Mathews, 160; John Pell, 175; Richard Sanchez, 178; Jack Sherrod, 200. LINEBACKERS—Larry Keen, 178; Ronnie Lowe, 175; Frank McCall, 185.

This seasons schedule for the Golden Norsemen will include top teams in seven states.

Norsemen Wayne Cathey, 66; Tom Fletcher, 65; David Slatton, 30; and two unknown tacklers combine to bring down a Cadet ball carrier.

NEO A&M College Archive Collection

The Norsewind – the NEO A&M College Newspaper

Digital copies of The Norsewind, Northeastern Oklahoma A&M College's student newspaper, are available in .pdf format on the NEO website for non-commercial purposes only. Scans were created using the best available editions through the assistance of the Oklahoma Higher Education Historical Society from microfilmed images. Where stains, color-fading, contributed marks or ripped pages were visible on the original, they also appear in the digital copy. NEO newspaper editions that do not appear on the website are not part of the collection at present. If you would like to donate a missing, damaged or incomplete copy of The Norsewind, please contact the NEO Library.
