Smith, Jones Begin Terms In Highest Class Offices

BY JANICE CLAY

Smith and Jones may be common names, but there is nothing common about the young men that these names belong to. Both have been elected to the highest office of their class, president!

Gary Smith, a political science major from Tulsa and the son of Mr. & Mrs. Elmer G. Smith, was elected president of the sophomore class Wednesday.

Jim Jones, a speech and drama major from Muskogee and the son of Mr. & Mrs. Kenneth C. Jones, was elected president of the freshman class. Both have one other thing in common—they were very, very surprised about the whole thing.

In an interview with the Norse Wind after the election, Gary expressed his surprise with the victory. "I am surprised-and happy," he said. "I hope the class will have more enthusiasm and unity throughout the year. If students have an opinion about something, we would like to hear it."

Jim wants to continue the freshman class cards as a means of raising money. "This worked fine in the past, and I think it should be continued. I don't think too many people objected to it," he said.

Officers elected to serve with Gary are: Jimmy Johnson, vice-president, Skiatook; Barbara Duncan, secretary-treasurer, Haskell; Wanda Surine, Adair, and Sharie Walker, Miami, student senate representatives. Sponsors of the class are Jack Rucker and Homa Thomas.

Officers elected to serve with Jim are: Mary Marshall, vice-president, Iberville, La.; Beverly Edwards, secretary-treasurer, San Antonio, Tex.; Polly Saunders, Pryor, and Roger Hadley, Grove, student senate representatives. Sponsors of the class are William Russell and E. J. Grieshaber.

Dean Angle Working on Ph. D.

Dean Charles Angle, former Dean of Student Affairs, has taken a leave of absence to attend the University of Kansas in Lawrence, where he will study for his Ph. D. in Political Science.

E. J. Grieshaber, instructor in social studies, is the acting dean for this year.

Dean Angle is scheduled to return next fall.

NOTICE—All persons interested in being on the Annual Staff, please contact Jack Rucker anytime next week.

New Instructors Added To Faculty

The faculty of Northeastern Okla. A&M greeted 10 new members this year. A majority of the new instructors are NEO alumni.

Billy Able, who joins the agriculture department, attended NEO and received his BS degree from Oklahoma State University and MS from Mississippi State College. He was selected as the outstanding sophomore in agriculture at NEO.

Gracie J. Coble joins the college faculty as a mathematics instructor, coming from Welch, where she had taught for the last 16 years. She holds a BA from Northeastern State College, Tahlequah, and received her masters from Kansas State college, Pittsburg, in August. She also attended NEO.

Cletus Green, a graduate of Miami high school and NEO, has assumed his duties as a basketball coach and social science instructor. He holds a BA degree in Journalism and physical education and comes to the college from a Sparta, Ill., high school.

Archie Gwartney, Jr., a native Oklahoman, serves as a business instructor. He was graduated from NEO and holds BS and MS degrees in business education.

Ruby Mackey heads the college's home economics department. She has a master's degree from Oklahoma State University and comes to Miami from Purdy, Missouri.

Herbert Pine, who holds a masters degree from the University of Colorado and has completed work toward a doctorate at the University of Tulsa, teaches psychology and sociology, as well as serving as counselor.

Kenneth O. (John) Tiger joins the NEO faculty as assistant football coach and instructor in physical education, history and government. He, too, is a graduate of NEO and the University of Kansas.

Clair Tromsness comes to NEO as an English instructor from Stanford University, where he has been teaching while completing work toward a master's degree.

Aldene Dennis of Mapleton, Kansas, teaches business courses in the manpower program. A graduate of Kansas State College of Pittsburg, with a BS degree in education, Miss Dennis has worked as a stenographer with the Kansas Welfare department and has been a social worker in Mound City, Kan.

Also joining the faculty of the manpower program is Mrs. Marie Williams, who teaches in the program for training legal and medical secretaries. Mrs. Williams

Senate secretary, Eve Melsner, did not return to NEO this fall, a new secretary will be elected within two weeks. Filing for the office is in progress and will close October 1.

'64 Senate Starts Term

BY CYNTHIA SEAMSTER

A larger and better organization is predicted by Charles Burwell, an arts and science major from Miami, who is the new Student Senate president. Gene Humble, an agriculture major from Vinita, is the vice-president; acting secretary is a Pryor speech major, Ann Atchley. Completing the senate are Barbara Duncan and Ray Purdy, representatives-at-large.

"The current school year could easily be the most successful in the history of NEO A&M college as far as the students are concerned," said Burwell. "With hard work and vigorous co-operation on the part of the students, the administration, and the student senate, new and exciting programs may be established."

Included in the senate's plans are better mixers, more cultural assemblies, and the staging of Friday night dances.

The organization also urges more student participation in campus activities and more support at sports events.

In regard to the senate itself, Burwell stresses that strict attendance will be required and that parliamentary procedure will be enforced. A judiciary council will be formed in order to expand the powers of the senate. The organization meets each Tuesday evening in the lounge of the student union.

NEO Tops In State With 195 Grads

Northeastern Okla. A&M College's total of 195 graduates in May was first in the state for two year colleges, according to the State Regents for Higher Education.

Oklahoma junior colleges and municipal colleges issued a total of 937 associate degrees.

NEO was first, followed by Eastern A&M with 183; Cameron, 172; Connors, 75; Northern, 73; Murray, 64; and Oklahoma Military Academy, 61.

Oklahoma's colleges granted 11,781 degrees during 1963-64, an increase of 816 from the previous year, reports Dr. E. T. Dunlap, Chancellor, who issued the report on the breakdown of degrees awarded.

Seamster Named As Editor, Staff Members Selected

Advertising manager is Jim Phillips, a sophomore from Welch; his assistant is a freshman, Liz Russell, from Miami. Phillips and Mike Wheat, a Tulsa freshman, will handle photographic duties.

Completing the staff are make-up editors Sandra McConnell, a Wyandotte sophomore, and Chally Kisee a freshman from Carthage, Missouri; and sports editors Lowell Brown and James Morgan.

Reporters are: Jerry Austin, Fred Clark, Nancy Daly, Evelyn Haynes, Phillip Maloesay, William Martin, James Nolan, Tom Pendergraft, Orville Pierce, Bill Rodgers, Randy Rognas, and Neal Sanford.

Any organization or individual having news to report should contact a member of the NORSE WIND staff or the journalism office, room 106, administration building. Students having comments to make about any situation or activity at NEO should do so in the form of a letter to the editor. These letters must be signed, and if they are sincere, they will be seriously considered for publication.

Christian Church Plans Center For Students

The First Christian Church of Miami has purchased the property east of the Baptist Student Union building for construction of a Christian student union for NEO students.

Phil Lockhart, assistant minister and youth minister of the church, described the purpose of the proposed union: "To the young people who come to NEO we feel a responsibility—a responsibility to provide a happy church home while they are away from their own churches. This project will be designed to bring us into contact with the students and to bring us closer together."

Bright And Bold Fall Fashions Steal Scene At NEO

BY CHALLY KISSEE
Why not make the fall fashion scene in style? Pick yourself a bright and bold outfit, like the one worn by Judy Lewis, and you're sure to steal the scene.

For close-knit friendships, choose a lively sweater. This one, in red and black, features a low V-neck with knitted insert. A blend of wool and kid mohair, the sweater has a nubby effect that is both flattering and fashionable.

Trim and terrific, flirty red stretch pants make a hit on any campus. These are a blend of stretch nylon and rayon and come in a wide variety of colors. Also available are the popular wool stretch pants. For comfort and appearance, you couldn't make a better choice.

Judy is up to her knees in boots. Black Congo-Crocco gives these distinction. High, low. Dressy, casual. Suede, leather. Boots come in all styles, shapes, and colors and are the greatest campus pace-setters ever.

A business major, Judy Lewis is from Wyandotte. She's a member of the freshman class. Why don't you follow her example and set a style of your own?

Judy's ensemble comes from "The Hub" and her boots are courtesy of "The Hub Bootery."

Bowery Director of Wesley Foundation

BY JANICE CLAY

The Rev. Erven Bowery, a former NEO student, has replaced the Rev. Garland Spurgin as director of the Wesley Foundation. Rev. Bowery comes to Miami from the Epworth Methodist church in Bartlesville, where Rev. Spurgin has been assigned.

Before going to Bartlesville, Rev. Bowery was the pastor at the Fairland Methodist church. While there in 1962-63, he attended NEO as a special student, completing 15 hours.

Rev. Bowery and his wife, Ada, have one son, Erven, Jr. (Doc) is now in the eighth grade at Kemper Military school at Boonville, Mo.

Born in Fairfield, Neb., he moved to Wichita where he went to high school. He then graduated from Naval preparatory school at San Diego, Calif. He served as an engineer in the Navy, retiring after 30 years with the rank of Lieutenant. A part of his duties was as a teacher of engineering at Ft. Trumbull in New London, Conn. He has attended three summers at Perkins Theology Seminar, a branch of Southern Methodist Univ., Dallas, Tex.

Parking Regulations Outlined For Autos

A student who drives his car to school and parks it on campus may find himself with a fine or a towing bill if he does not observe parking and registration regulations. These regulations were distributed during enrolment; they are reprinted below so that students may become more familiar with them.

A student or faculty member owning a car must have it registered. If it is not registered, a five dollar fine may be invoked.

Drivers having parking permits should always park in designated areas. Only drivers with permits will be allowed through the south entrance.

Parking is prohibited on the drive way behind the Administration building, south of Commons Hall, areas of the college gas pumps, service entrances, or any solid painted area.

Students will not be allowed to park in the faculty area.

Owners of cars parked in the unauthorized areas will be fined one dollar for the first offense. After the first offense, the car will be impounded and towed away at the owner's expense.

This is the average man.
The men studying him aren't.

Putting together thousands of measurements, Air Force scientists designed this "typical" head. Its purpose? To help provide better protective equipment for Air Force flying personnel.

But the young men working on this project are far from average. As Air Force officers, they are working in a field that requires a high degree of technological insight.

The fact is, most Air Force jobs today call for advanced, specialized know-how. And they give young officers the opportunity to undertake vital missions of great responsibility.

For instance, an Air Force scientist may be exploring the complex field of aerodynamics. Another may be engaged in bioenvironmental engineering. A third may be studying the technology of nuclear weapons.

How many other professions give a young man such important work to do right from the start?

You can get started on an Air Force officer career by enrolling in Air Force ROTC. For information, see the Professor of Air Science.

Presidents Elected At Dyer Hall

Residents of Dyer Hall recently elected presidents from each of the three floors. Danny Brock, a Fairland sophomore, was elected president of the first floor. Fred Gearhart, a sophomore from Alexandria, Va., was elected president of the second floor. Third floor president is Ronnie Ford, a freshman from Tulsa.

The boys' duties include organization and work on the homecoming float and the Dyer Hall Christmas party. They will also advise other residents, work with the proctors in maintaining order, and lead their floors in whatever duties their positions warrant.

Car To Be Given Away Soon By Press Club

A 1961 Chevrolet Fleetline with radio, heater, powerglide, seat-covers and good paint will be given away Sept. 30, by the Press club.

Members of the Press club will be more than happy to accept your donation, thereby giving students an opportunity of winning the car.

Donations received are used to help pay for expenses incurred throughout the year.

Press club President Tom Pendergraft said the give-away might be postponed to a later date if sales were slow.

Students Injured

Two NEO students were injured in a two car accident Wednesday night about 8 p.m. Jim Thomas of Tulsa, the driver of a sports car had about 30 stitches taken around his left eye and was released from the hospital.

Jerry Austin, the only passenger of the car received lacerations on the forehead requiring 60 stitches. He is a sophomore from Grove. Both students were released from the hospital.

Jaycelyn Amaline Harrison of Commerce, the driver of the other car, was not taken to the hospital.

Both cars caught fire but were quickly extinguished.

OMA Forfeits Game To NEO

After beating the Golden Norsemen 13-7, Oklahoma Military Academy was forced to forfeit the game because of an ineligible player.

Major Frank E. Bear of OMA voluntarily submitted the information to NEO that they had found one of the players to be ineligible.

Ken Turnbull, a 238 pound guard and a top performer in the OMA defence, was ineligible because of transfer status not revealed when he entered OMA.

Major Bear stated in his letter that the football scholarship was given to Turnbull on the assumption that he had not been enrolled in any school since his graduation from high school. On his enrollment at OMA he made the statement that the last school he attended was Sapulpa High school.

After investigation Homer Thomas found that he had entered Northeastern State at Tahlequah in Sept., 1961 and withdrew Nov., 1961, then entered Lamar, Colo., Junior College Sept., 1962.

The Oklahoma jaco conference, in which OMA is a member, does not allow participation by transfer athletes.

When informed of this, Norse Coach Red Robertson commented, "We certainly do not like to win a game this way and have regrets for OMA. The player was power against us and there is no way of knowing how the game might have come out if he had not been the lineup."

The Norse are scheduled to play Trinidad Junior college at Robertson field tomorrow night. Trinidad was beaten by the Norse last year by a 20 to 6 score.

CARTER WINS GRID CONTEST

John Carter, NEO custodian, recently won a five dollar first prize in a football contest sponsored by the Miami News-Record. Carter correctly picked the winners of thirteen college football games, but missed a $100 bonus offered for guessing the score of a specified game.
